May Day Was More Feared Than Fearful.

The talk about Anarchistic rows
Was the work of sensationalists;
Still, anarchy is abroad in the Land,
And is only restrained by the
Strong arm of the law.
But it will never flourish in America.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

U. S. Department of Agriculture,
Weather Bureau,
Toledo, O., May 2, 1892.

The weather over the greater part of the country is unsettled and stormy. There is an area of low pressure extending from Texas to the lake region. It has caused high temperatures and rain over the entire eastern half of the country. The rains were heaviest on the borders of the lakes. During the past 24 hours 1.13 inches fell at this station; Oswego, .62; Erie, 1.36; Cleveland, 1.70; Sandusky, .64; Buffalo, .60; Detroit, 2.22; Port Huron, .94; Milwaukee, 1.54, and Chicago, 1.10.

There is an area of high pressure over the northwest which has caused the weather to clear over that section and the temperature to fall below the freezing point. Several stations in that section report snow.

Forecast for Toledo and vicinity—Rain followed by clearing and cooler weather. Fair Tuesday and Wednesday.

E. A. HANNER, Observer.

Ohio and Indiana—Showers; southerly winds; cooler in southern portions.

Illinois—Showers; cooler; variable winds.

Lower Michigan—Showers; slightly cooler; northerly winds.

Upper Michigan and Wisconsin—Fair, followed by showers; northerly winds.

Drive them away—the aches, pains, weaknesses and ailments that make woman's life miserable. Some of them may be serious, and of long standing; they'll need time, perhaps, and patience. But all of them can certainly be cured and corrected with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

It's a powerful, invigorating tonic and a soothing and strengthening nervine; a legitimate medicine, purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, and carefully adapted to women's delicate needs. At the two critical periods in a woman's life—the change from girlhood to womanhood, and, later, the "change of life"—it is a perfectly safe and an especially valuable remedial agent that can produce only good results.

For all "female complaints," irregularities, and weaknesses, "Favorite Prescription" is the only remedy so unfailing and effective that it can be guaranteed. If it doesn't benefit or cure, in every case, the money will be refunded.

MAY DAY HAS GONE

And European Countries Breathe More Easily.

Half a Million People in London

Parade the Streets of the Great City.

The Paris Bloodshed Did Not Take Place.

Red Flags Captured by the Police in Chicago Amid the Cheers of Loyal People on the Sidewalks.

Chicago, May 2.—A highly sensational incident occurred in the May day celebration here. It was none other than the seizure of three sanguinary emblems which were carried by three paraders in the immense procession which was the feature of the day's celebration.

The police officials had issued strict orders for the regulation of the demonstration, among which was one that no red flags or other anarchistic draperies would be permitted in the parade, and they evidently meant what they said.

At the head of the two dozen men from the Arbeiter Zeitung office a flaming red rag was carried. It had been prepared for the occasion, as a strip of bunting covered with stars had been fastened to the staff and fell among the folds of the emblem. Another little bunch of reds, known as debating clubs Nos. 1 and 2, carried flags which were so red that they drew the disapproval of Superintendent Hubbard.

After watching the procession for some time the divisions carrying the unarchistic emblems caught the eye of Superintendent Hubbard, who immediately resolved to capture them at all hazards. A hurried consultation was held between Inspectors Marsh, Fitzpatrick and Capt. Shea and Superintendent Hubbard, after which there was considerable of a commotion around headquarters.

As the procession approached Madison street on Clark, Capt. Shea and a dozen Central station detectives forced their way through the immense crowd which lined the streets, and, accompanied by a dozen officers in uniform, took positions at the corner of Madison and Clark streets.

As the debating clubs came up with their fierce red flags floating in the breeze, Inspector Marsh nodded his head, and in a twinkling officers broke into the ranks and seized the men carrying the forbidden flags. The crowd fell back to allow the officers and their prisoners passage, and the latter were unceremoniously hurried into a waiting patrol wagon, the crowd which lined the streets meanwhile cheering wildly.

A few minutes later the Arbeiter Zeitung employes reached the corner. Another nod by Inspector Marsh and the officers seized the bearer of the red banner. He made a little show of resistance, but was quickly and forcibly placed in the waiting patrol wagon. The crowd again cheered lustily, and a young man who was decorated with a bright crimson sash made an insulting remark and quickly joined his comrades in the patrol wagon.

When the men and flags were taken from the ranks it did not cause any particular commotion in the procession, the marchers 100 feet ahead being oblivious of the proceedings.

The men and their fiery draperies were taken to Chief McLaughrey's office, when the latter read them a severe lecture and informed them that it was not his purpose to prosecute them, but he informed them that the laws must be obeyed and police regulations strictly lived up to.

The men stated that they were innocent of wrong doing; they only read the Arbeiter Zeitung, and did not know they were violating any law or disobeying police orders.

They were selected, they said, by their organizations to carry the flags and did not intend to defy the police.

There was not the least hint of disorder on the lake front where the speeches were made, and the revolutionary spirit, if there was any, was carefully concealed.

THE DAY IN PARIS.

No Blood Was Shed as Had Been Expected.

Paris, May 2.—May Day was a pleasant day and the gay Parisians seems to have tried to forget the dangers supposed to encompass them.

The boulevards and parks were crowded, and the patronage of restaurants and cafes has been exceptionally large.

Women and children walked unterrified in the streets. The churches were full, and the strain of apprehension had seemed temporarily to have relaxed.

In the barracks, at the police stations, and in the districts around the public buildings, however, thousands of armed men stood ready to march out at a moment's notice and shoot to kill. All day squads of cavalry and mounted police clattered through the streets to the relief of the troops on guard before daybreak, and occasionally the heavy tread of infantry reminded the promenaders that both services in the garrison had been mobilized against expected dangers.

Every public building was garrisoned with 50 or 60 infantry with ball cartridges in their rifles. Outside sentinels at intervals of 10 yards paralled the street.

The principal meeting was in the Salle Favie at Belleville. All the great socialist orators were present at this meeting.

It was a motley crowd from every part of under class Paris and its suburbs. The speeches were fiery and often incendiary. Ravachol was defied by one speaker amid hisses and cheers. In general, however, the socialists had matters their own way to the exclusion of the anarchists. The rich were denounced as robbers who must be deprived of their plunder. Demands were made that the bourgeosie should be compelled to give up houses and land to be divided among the poor. The bourgeousie were denounced also as cowards and thieves.

Found a Bomb.

Madrid, May 2.—At Seville yesterday a priest found a bomb with a lighted fuse on the floor of his church confessional, and extinguished it.

Barcelona, May 2.—The police found a bomb in one of the streets yesterday and arrested seventeen persons.

Exciting Fire.

Budapesth, May 2.—While yesterday's demonstration was in progress, a fire broke out in Nicholson's machine factory, and a rumor spread that the fire had been started by workmen to enable them to loot the establishment.

The proprietor denies, however, that the fire was of incendiary origin. An immense crowd gathered and the police experienced difficulty in keeping sufficient space for the operations of the fire brigade. The building was completely gutted. The loss amounts to about $100,000.

The Women Orated.

Vienna, May 2.—By odds the most interesting of the meetings held yesterday was that of women at Neulerchenfeld, which was addressed by Fraulein Grobinger, a dressmaker, and Fraulein Dvorak, a cork cutter. Their speeches were conceded to be superior to those of any of the male orators of the day.

The police dispersed a procession which was returning to the city last night and became disorderly. One officer was injured by a stick, and several of the paraders were slightly hurt.

Explosives Seized.

Paris, May 2.—A quantity of explosives was seized yesterday in anarchists' residences at Villemomble, the police having wind of a plot to destroy the hotel De Villa. One person was arrested. A number of others escaped.

May Day Comment.

Paris, May 2.—In commenting upon the May day celebration yesterday the Figaro to-day says that despite the peaceful character of yesterday's events the people must not shut their eyes to the fact that the Workmen's International union revived yesterday's demonstrations to show that the workingmen are masters of the situation.

The Journal des Debats says: "The negative results of the manifestations ought not to inspire us too readily to a confidence which may prove misleading. There is nothing to justify the idea that we have heard the last of anarchism."

Caused Excitement.

Brussels, May 2.—At Aublin, a town near Couvin, in the province of Namur, a dynamite bomb exploded in front of the Burgomaster's house yesterday. Little damage was done.

Burned by Anarchists.

Paris, May 2.—A telegram says the grand circus at Troyes was set on fire yesterday, presumably by anarchists, and burned to the ground.

The flames spread to and destroyed three adjacent houses. While the fire was burning a loud explosion was heard in the interior of the circus.

NATURAL GAS EXPLOSION

A Fremont Man Very Badly Burned.

E. A. Bristol Meets with an Accident —J. W. Palmer Has a Little Powder Explosion on the Side.

Fremont, O., May 2.—(Special)—Mr. E. A. Bristol, of the hardware firm of Hedries, Bristol & Co., had a narrow escape from what might have been a serious accident yesterday about noon. While lighting a natural gas fire in the store, the gas having accidentally been turned on, an explosion took place, throwing him clear across the room against the safe.

His beard was entirely burned off, hands badly burned, and his clothes ruined by the scorching they received.

Shortly after this J. W. Palmer, of the firm of Hollinger & Palmer, while in a spirit of fun, lighted some gunpowder under an inverted can. Tableau: Powder exploded, hurling the can in Mr. Palmer's face, cutting it badly and barely escaping his eyes. Mr. P. is congratulating himself on his lucky escape, but wants no more fun of that kind.

BINDING TWINE.

The House Has Placed It on the Free List.

Washington, May 2.—The bill to place binding twine on the free list passed the house under suspension of the rules by a vote of 183 to 47.

DISASTER ON THE LAKES

The Big Barge Yosemite Burned at Emerson.

The Sophia Minch Lost on Lake Superior.

The Reading Company Obtains Control of the Lehigh and the Lackawanna Lake Property.

Sault Ste. Marie, May 2.—The steam barge Yosemite, while lying at anchor at Emerson, was burned to the water's edge.

The Snowdrop Ashore.

Chicago, May 2.—The old schooner Snowdrop went ashore on North Point, near Milwaukee Saturday night and at last accounts was fast pounding to pieces. She was owned by James Tousion, of Chicago, and was valued at $3,000.

About Whalebacks.

The whaleback steamers grow very rapidly in their carrying capacity when the launching time comes. The actual registered tonnage of the Thomas Wilson, which was launched last Saturday was 1,318. "It is ridiculous," said a marine man yesterday, "to suppose that a boat of such registered tonnage could carry 4,000 tons. It is likely, judging from her size—322 feet long, 38 feet beam, and 24 feet deep—that the full cargo of the boat will not exceed 2,600 tons on an ordinary draft of water. This is somewhat less than 4,000 tons, but then everything in the northwest gets bigger than anywhere else."

Stole a March.

The owners of the smaller excursion boats sneaked in one day's business on the Henry syndicate in carrying passengers to the World's fair grounds. Bright and early yesterday the steamer Post Boy came down the river and took its station at the lake front. All day it was carrying full loads of passengers to and from Jackson park. The syndicate's contract was to have begun yesterday, but the owners of the frozen-out boats got one day's good business regardless of that contract.

The Big Coal Combine.

As stubborn facts come out day by day, the completeness of the Philadelphia & Reading monopoly on the hard coal product become more apparent. Not only is the great Silver Creek & Morris company eaten up, with its great plant and wharves on Lake Erie, in Chicago, at West Superior on Superior, and at St. Paul, but the Lehigh Coal company and the Lackawanna Coal company and their plants and wharves on Lake Erie in Chicago, at Milkuakee and other ports, and also the great Lehigh Transportation line and the Lackawanna Transportation line, with their immense wharves, freight-house and plants at Buffalo, Chicago and other ports.

The Lehigh Valley line of steamers is composed of the very finest craft on the shain of lakes. The following is the list of the Lehigh tonnage: Saranac, steel; Seneca steel; Camiga, steel; Tuscarora, steel; E. P. Wilbur, steel; Fred Mercur, wood; H. E. Packer, wood; R. A. Packer, wood; Oceanica, wood; Clyde, wood; Tacoma, wood. Total tonnage 16,105; total value $1,825,000.

The Lackawanna is also a big fine line of steamers, and also ply between Lake Erie ports and Milkuakee and Chicago, as follows: Scranton, steel; Lackawanna, steel; Florida, wood; Rhode Island, steel; Wyoming, wood; Newburg, wood. Total tonnage 19,295; total value, $820,000.

Wyoming and Florida chartered.

The wharves of the Lehigh Coal company in Chicago are at Hatrison street in the South branch, and at Chicago avenue in the North branch. The wharf of the Lehigh Valley Transportation company is in the main river at the mouth of the harbor and is very complete for the handling of freight.

It is learned that the Reading is also organizing a line of steamers to ply between Buffalo and Lake Superior ports.

It is clear now why wild steamers and vessels have to scramble so to get coal cargoes on Lake Erie, thus cutting down the freight rate to 40 cents a ton from Buffalo to Chicago.

Fears for the Sophia Minch.

Duluth, May 2.—The steamer A. Everett arrived here without her schooner, Sophia Minch, and grave fears are felt for both the crew of nine men and their boats. Capt. Henry Frittle, commander of the Everett, says the Minch let go her tow line about 12:30 Thursday morning, when at a point about three miles this side of Outer island. Both vessels were coal laden.

"One of the worst gales ever known was blowing," he said. "The wind must have been 60 miles an hour, from the southwest. The schooner was all reefed, and when she let go she was in good shape to weather a storm. I do not know why she let go. The line was a new one, the night was not dark, and I could plainly see Capt. Lampow's torch. I hung on till daylight and then went over to Washburn. I then started down the lake in search of the schooner. Below Keweenaw Point we ran alongside the schooner Hawgood, that had got adrift the same time we lost our schooner. We then searched along the north shore and touched the islands along north of Isle Royale. We crossed again to the south shore and put into Ontonagon. Then we came on to Duluth. I think the schooner has gone down. She had a crew of nine men, with Capt. Joseph Lampow of Cleveland in command. The captain of the Hawgood said he saw a boat Thursday forenoon, about 10 miles further out than he was, with nothing on but a new stay sail. They looked for her again after a time, but she was gone. The Minch just left the dry dock this spring, and was one of the best boats out.

"I got a dispatch from her owner, saying that the Western Reserve would look out for her. Capt. Lamnow was about 35 years old, and had a wife and one daughter. It was his father who died a few years ago while entering Cleveland, when in command of the Chisholm.

Duluth, May 2.—Capt. Stover, of the steamer Fairbank, arrived to-day from Port Arthur. He reports seeing a schooner lying at anchor off Pie island yesterday morning and is quite positive that she was the Sophia Minch.

Fast in the Mud.

Sault Ste. Marie, May 2.—The Uganda is hard aground near the can buoy in Lake George flats. She is two feet out aft and one foot forward on a mud bottom. Water is 13 feet 6 inches.

Down—Macey, Wilson, Hunter, Australasia, Tasmara, 1; St. Lawrence, 4! Mariski, 5; Langell, Aranac, 7.

Through the Straits.

Mackinaw City, May 2.—Down a. m.; Brittanic 4:30; Otis, 8; Grand Traverse, 11.

Up: Philadelphia, 10:15 last night; Robert Mills, 11:30; Wawatam, 8 a. m; Langdon, 8:30; Keystone, consort, 9:40; McLaren, 11.

Wind east; fresh, clear.

Fog Bound.

Detroit, May 2.—A dense fog lay on the river last night from Port Huron to the Lime Kilns, and vessels generally tied up until davilght.

FRENCH ELECTIONS.

Returns Show That the Republicans Carried the Day.

Paris, May 2.—Returns have been received of the municipal elections held in France yesterday showing that, except in Paris, the republicans are ahead. They have gained every seat in the department of the Nord with but one exception. Seventeen revolutionaries have been elected in St. Ouens. The republicans head the polls at Fourmies. The conservatives are next and the socialists last.

TO BUILD UP A TOWN

Another City to be Built Near Chicago.

Wolf River is to be Made Navigable.

A Syndicate Buys a Thousand Acres and Erects Thereon a Second Pullman.

Chicago, May 2.—The greatest project for the upbuilding of new manufacturing centers in Chicago suburbs, since Pullman was founded, is now under way for a new city on the shore of Lake Michigan just east of the Indiana state line.

A strong syndicate has purchased 1,000 acres of land lying directly upon the lake at the point where the so-called Wolf river in pre-historic times, before the sands had filled its mouth, had emptied into the lake.

It is now proposed to re-open the mouth of Wolf river and build up a second Calumet region. There is not more than a quarter of a mile dredging between where the water ceases in the river and the lake.

It is of soft sand, and can be easily removed. Wolf river is a sort of bayou through the Calumet marsh, and follows a crooked course to Wolf lake, about two miles from the lake shore.

It much resembles the Calumet river before the government had expended $3,000 or $4,000 in dredging and straightening it. It is said that considerable less money will be taken in giving Wolf river a navagable channel than was the case with the Calumet.

It is the syndicate's aim to establish rolling mills at the entrance of the new harbor, and with their refuse build out into the lake. The site is said to be even better than that of the Illinois Steel company at the mouth of the Calumet. Several propositions have been received for the establishment of manufacturing industries on the new site, but none have yet been closed.

One concern which would employ 1,200 men was ready to come, but the bonus it required was so large that the syndicate were afraid all the profit of the deal would be lost to the new-comers.

The plan is to undertake the opening of Wolf river by private enterprise and then when a satisfactory showing had been made of the feasibility of the new harbor to ask for congressional aid in completing the work, and in dredging Wolf river. As the new town will be in Indiana in a very close congressional district the promotors hope to carry enough local weight to secure the required appropriation.

WATTERSON IS STILL FIRM

He Wants a Western Man for President.

He Thinks New York Would Certainly Sulk and Lose the State If Cleveland Is the Man.

Louisville, Ky., May 2.—Henry Watterson, in a letter from Washington reviewing the political situation, concludes as follows:

"I believe and hope that the disappearance of Gov. Hill from the field even of conjecture and the apprehension of his alleged methods allayed the clear good sense of the party will reassert itself and that two months hence all democrats will see, as plainly as is now seen by democrats who are advised of the true situation, that the nomination of Mr. Cleveland would be an act of suicide and because of two simple, conclusive reasons:

1.—He would lose the state of New York as surely and as disastrously as it was lost by Judge Folger when a hundred thousand republicans stayed away from the polls and gave the state to Mr. Cleveland by nearly two hundred thousand majority.

2.—With his proclimed and extreme views upon silver coinage, we could not hope to gain votes in a single one of the republican states of the northwest and would surely risk the loss of such states as West Virginia, Virginia and North Carolina.

HIS LIPS ARE SEALED

Ferdinand Ward Refuses to Talk.

The Price of His Sentence Has Been Purchased by a Promise to Quash Other Indictments.

Putnam, Conn., May 2.—Ferdinand Ward spent a very quiet day yesterday. He and his boy Clarence were constantly together. The ex-financier still refuses to discuss on the subject of the affairs of the firm of Grant & Ward. When questioned on the subject his reply was: "I have absolutely nothing to say upon the subject." He frankly admits, however, that six weeks ago he was preparing to make a written statement for publication, in which he would have given facts and figures showing, as he alleges, that he had been made to suffer for the sins of others as well as his own. The reason why he suddenly decided not to do this he would not tell. It is said, however, that the successful efforts of influential people to arrange matters so that the federal indictments hanging over him would not be pushed induced him to remain silent.

BARN BURNED.

Wapakoneta, O., May 2.—(Special)—Yesterday the large and beautiful barn of Mrs. Louie Kolter, near this city, was entirely destroyed by fire, with its contents. It contained five horses, cattle, hay, corn and all the farm implements. Loss nearly $5,000; no insurance.

MURDEROUS ASSAULT.

A Bridgeport Man Badly Beaten by Toughs.

Bridgeport, Conn., May 2.—Patrick Feeley is in a dying condition at his home. In company with his son and Joseph Brown, Feeley left his cafe about 12:30 yesterday morning. When crossing a bridge, a gang of toughs, who frequent that neighborhood, sprang upon and assaulted the men. Brown escaped, but Feeley was knocked down and terribly beaten.

The shouts of his son for help brought assistance, but not until Feeley had been kicked and clubbed into insensibility. The police yesterday arrested Michael Kelly, Frederick Brummeran, Nicholas Cillick and George Hoey, all roughs and leaders of the gang.

BLAZE IN CINCINNATI.

Thirty Thousand Dollars Worth of Property Destroyed.

Cincinnati, May 2.—The Crane Lumber company's stable, Klockes' saloon and dwelling, Smith's dwelling and saloon, Dugan's planing mill and over 500,000 feet of lumber belonging to Crane & Co., was burned last night, entailing a loss of $30,000, fully insured.

The cause of the fire is unknown, but it is supposed to have been caused by a man under the influence of liquor who was seen to go into a carpenter shop, light a match and in some way ignited the inflammable material there. The man has not yet been found.

WHITEHOUSE NOTES.

Burglars Go Through a House and Get Ten Cents.

Whitehouse, May 2.—Masked robbers went through Daniel Crosby's house in Providence township and secured 10 cents. He had $50 buried in the ground. It is suspected the job was done by somebody acquainted with this fact.

The corporation has received $6,055 on the burned school house. The building will be rebuilt, but the location is not yet selected.

The gound it too wet for farmers to work.

BUILDING ASSOCIATIONS

How They Thrive in the Buckeye State.

Interesting Figures Showing the Standing.

Deputy State Inspector Herman F. Cellarius Completes His First Annual Statement to the Governor.

Columbus, May 2.—(Special)—Herman F. Cellarius, deputy state inspector of building associations, has completed the statistical part of the first annual report of the department. There has been in the past but little reliable information concerning the combined capital invested in these co-operative associations of the state, and the figures will no doubt appear surprisingly large to some who regarded building associations as small factors in the business world. The report contains the annual statements of 465 building and loan associations whose fiscal years run from May 1, 1891, the date of the passage of the Corcoran act to December 31, 1891. The returns of these associations as tabulated make the following exhibit:

Assets.

Cash on hand	$ 1,324,115 63
Loans on mortgage security	37,052,065 53
Loans on stock security	715,636 24
Furniture and fixtures	68,157 39

Cash on hand	1,324,115 63
Total	$30,349,571 93

The number of associations in existence in Ohio December 31, 1891, was 723, of which 333 were in Cincinnati. This included the recent corporations. It is assumed that there were 700 associations in actual operation December 31, and an estimate, made on the basis of the returns received of the moneys invested in these associations in Ohio is as follows:

Total Assets in Ohio.

Cash on hand	$ 1,993,202 00
Loans on mortgage security	55,777,302 00
Loans on stock security	1,077,300 00

Undivided profits	646,051 00
Miscellaneous liabilities	377,937 00
Total	$59,680,236 00

On the same basis the total receipts of the building and loan associations of the state are $45,687,530, of which $20,647,942 is received as dues on stock, $4,620,462 on paid up stock, $2,751,518 on deposits, $9,141,615 as repayment on loans, $3,155,894 for interest, 717,353 for premiums, $54,355 for fines, $98,588 for pass-books and initiation and $2,120,314 for borrowed money. The total expenses of conducting these insitutions for one year is $443,331, which is less than one per cent. of the receipts.

The actual returns of the 465 associations also make the following showing:

Authorized capital stock, $435,839,500; capital stock subscribed and in force, $171,441,643; total amount of earnings, $2,905,775.58; earnings distributed to running stock, $1,590,582.28; earnings distributed to paid up stock, $445,840.53; interest paid on deposits, $48, 865.52; total number of shares, 178,069; depositing members, 118,156; borrowing members, 36,670; total membership, 154,826; average rate per cent. interest, charged borrowers, 6.11 per cent.; average rate per cent. of premium charged borrowers, 1.77 per cent.; average rate per cent. dividend declared, 6.88 per cent; average rate per cent. interest paid on deposits, 5.2 per cent.

The total membership in all associations in Ohio is estimated at 233,100.

Of the 465 associations reported 426 are on the permanent plan, 27 on the termination plan and 12 on the serial plan. 436 receive premiums on the installment plan, 17 on the gross plan and 12 charge no premiums.

DEEMING MUST DIE

Jack the Ripper Found Guilty of Murder

And Sentenced to Death at Melbourne.

The Most Versatile Liar of the Age

Reaches the Climax in the Court Room.

The Insanity Defense Did Not Work and He Will Pay the Penalty for One of His Many Bloody Deeds.

Melbourne May 2.—The trial of Deeming for the murder of his last wife, formerly Miss Mather, of Rain Hill, was resumed this morning. The latest testimony for the prisoner was that of Dr. Fishbourne, who was called to give evidence as to the prisoner's sanity. He swore that he had examined Deeming and found symptoms which indicated disease of the brain.

At this point the defense closed.

Mr. Furlong, counsel for Deeming, summed up for the defense at considerable length. He made insanity the basis. Nature in her healthy moods, he declared, could not have made such a monster. This man had a monomania for murder which was not to be explained by the ordinary tests. Counsel closed with a clean analysis of the testimony which, he declared, showed at every step Deeming's irresponsibility.

Dr. Springthorpe related Deeming's explanation of how his wives had disappeared. Deeming said that while he and his first wife were living at Rain Hill, near Liverpool, a man named Ben Young had told him that his (Deeming's) wife would leave him for £50. He paid the money and his wife left him.

He supposed that Young had killed her while he (Deeming) was coming to Melbourne with his second wife, (Miss Mather) for whose murder he is now on trial. His second wife, Deeming said, confessed that she was already married and left him in Melbourne because she was afraid of being implicated in the murder of his first wife.

Deeming is noted for being a notorious liar and the above is a fair specimen of his ability in that line. The fact is that the Rain Hill murder was known to none save Deeming until after it was known that he killed his wife here. It was the discovery of the latter crime that led to the suspicion that he had murdered his wife and children at Rain Hill.

It will therefore be seen that his statement relative to his second wife leaving him for fear of being implicated in the Rain Hill murders is without foundation. After some further medical testimony the defense was closed and the court charged the jury.

The jury brought in a verdict of guilty, and the prisoner was sentenced to death.

When the jury retired, the court room, already well filled, was crowded to suffocation during the pause. Many women were present and Deeming tried to conceal his nervousness by smiling and commenting in an audible undertone on their appearance. His last remark before the jury retired was: "When I get out I will have the pick of them for a wife."

As the jury filed back into thteroom, Deeming shifted uneasily but smiled at the foreman. Theforeman delivered to the judge the verdict of guilty as charged in the indictment.

Deeming turned white and trembled as the judge turned towards him and passed upon him the sentence of death.

The judge said that in all his experience with criminals he had never before seen such a consummate wretch as the prisoner. He spoke of Deeming's shameless effrontery during the trial and remarked that the jury had rightfully ignored the prisoner's clownish attempts to prove himself irresponsible.

As the judge pronounced the words "to be hanged by the neck until dead," Deeming gasped and tottered, but recovered enough to nod with assumed indifference. He then sank back in his seat.

The audience in the court room applauded the verdict and sentence. Deeming was then taken back to prison, was searched carefully and locked up in his cell. He called back to the keeper as the latter started down the prison corridor, with an effort at bravado: "I suppose you think I am in a tight fix. Well, I presume I am, but I may cheat the gallows yet."

WAS GUILTY AS CHARGED

The Case of Banker Ralph K. Paige.

He Pleads Guilty to the Charge and Will be Sentenced to the Penitentiary.

Cleveland, May 2.—Ralph K. Paige, treasurer of the Painesville bank that failed recently, to-day pleaded guilty before Judge Hamilton to having forged two notes of $3,000 and $2,000, respectively.

He was then remanded to jail and will be sentenced to the penitentiary in a few days.

DISASTROUS BLAZE.

A Number of Buildings in Mount Sterling, Ky., Burned.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., May 2.—Early yesterday morning the following business houses were destroyed by fire:

The Sentinel newspaper office, J. H. Brunner's shoe store, the postoffice, Hainline's bazaar, Enoch's bargain house, business houses of T. P. Martin & Co., dry goods and notions; Walt. M. Gay & Co., grocers, and Mrs. Kate O. Clark, millinery. The origin of the fire is unknown.

The total loss is about $50,000, with insurance aggregating one-half that sum. The entire contents of the postoffice, valuable mail matter, etc., were destroyed.

A DEAD BABY.

Found in a Well at Tontogany—An Investigation.

Tontogany, O., May 2.—The body of a dead girl baby was found floating on the top of the water in an old well here yesterday by a workman who went down to clean out the well. The well is on the lot of B. F. Davis, in the rear of a drug store.

The body was wrapped in an old quilt, and had been in the water about six weeks according to medical opinion. It was fully developed. The coroner was called from Bowling Green and has begun an investigation and ordered the body buried.

New York, May 2.—A. C. Rodiguez & Co., wholesale and retail cigar dealers at No. 7 Berkman street, assigned to-day with preferences.

CORNERSTONE LAID

With Very Imposing Ceremonies on Sunday.

Rain Does Not Prevent a Monster Parade,

Participated in by all the Parishes of Toledo.

Fully Four Thousand Persons Are in Line,

While the Streets and Sidewalks are Also Jammed—The Exercises at the New Immaculate Conception Church—The Reception to Bishop Horstman.

The reception tendered the Rt. Rev. Bishop Horstman by the Catholics of Toledo yesterday, incident to the laying of the foundation stone of the Immaculate Conception church, was, perhaps, the greatest demonstration of the kind ever witnessed in Toledo. The down-pour of rain, which continued all day, did not seem to affect the ardor or enthusiasm of the participants in the least. The procession undoubtedly would have been much larger had it been a fine day, but it looked as if every Catholic in Toledo was in line. Wet and bedraggled the paraders moved good humoredly through the mud and slush, and not until the last service was over did the immense crowd disperse. Seldom has any individual received such a welcome as did Bishop Horstman. From the Union depot to the church on the corner of Broadway and Maumee avenue, it was a triumphal march, and the reverend gentleman waved back from his place in the carriage, token of his appreciation and gratitude for the hearty welcome tendered him.

At the Depot.

Not less than five or six thousand people awaited the bishop's arrival at the Union depot. The crush was tremendous. A line of little girls drawn up in front of the main entrance was one of the features of the reception. A long line of carriages divided the crowd, but often eager watchers disputed right of way with the horses and vehicles. The following special reception committee had charge of affairs at the depot, and comprised a guard of honor to the bishop from the depot to the church: Dr. James T. Lawless, John M. Burns, John Dillon, Daniel J. O'Hara, John C. Phelan, P. Fitzpatrick, John F. Downey, Geo. O'Toole, John L. Burns, John M. Gorman, Thos. Noonan, John O'Grady, Michael Walsh, Patrick Christy, Thomas White, Wm. Coyle, John Lenahan, Wm. Hanlon.

The Lake Shore train from Cleveland arrived on time, and when Bishop Horstman was singled out from the clergymen who accompanied him, he was given an ovation.

The crowd divided to let the bishop pass, but immediately closed again, and the reception committee who accompanied the bishop from Cleveland was shut out and had to do battle single-handed to reach their carriages.

The committee comprised Gilbert Harmon, Martin Neuhausel, E. J. Goulet, John Sattler, Dr. Lawless, Louis Miche, George Scheets, John Bihn, C. Czarnecki.

The Decorations.

The decorations along Broadway, but particularly at and in the vicinity of the church, were or at least would have been beautiful and elaborate had it not been for rain. In the decorations as in the flags and banners in the parade, the national colors predominated. Among the mottoes so freely distributed about the church were the following:

"God Bless our Schools."
"God Bless our Teachers."
"Washington, Father of His Country."
"President Harrison, Ruler of 60,000,000 Freemen."
"Welcome to the Future Great."
"Carroll of Carrolton."
"Equal Rights."
"Freedom to Worship God."
"For God and Our Native Land."
"Our Country and Our Rights."
"Render Unto Caesar the Things that are Caesar's."
"We Honor a Prince of the Church."

On the arch beneath which the bishop spoke was the sign "Ad Majorem Gloriam Dei."

Father McCarthy's residence near the church was tastefully decorated inside and out, as were many of the other residences in the vicinity.

The Corner Stone and Contents.

For some time Father McCarthy has been storing away in a little copper box to be deposited beneath the corner stone some relics and data that may be very interesting 50 years from now. In the copper box placed beneath the stone yesterday were a host of interesting things, among them the names of President Harrison and cabinet, Governor McKinley and staff, with all the state, county and city officials. There were pictures of Pope Leo XIII, Bishop Horstman, Father McCarthy and of many of the little children of the parish. There were copies of Saturday's Bee, Blade and Commercial, beside numerous other things that will be equally interesting in the years to come.

The Ceremonies.

It was a wonderful sea of faces that met the sight from the reporters' stand located close to the corner stone. This sea was soon changed to a waving waste of umbrellas. The rain came down heavy, and yet the immense crowd remained patiently for the arrival of the bishop. Among those on the platform as vice-presidents were Gen. J. S. Kountz, Judge P. A. McGahan, Dennis Coghlin, Judge Gilbert Harmon, Alderman John Huberich, Councilman Coleman, Alerman M. Graham, Martin Neuhausel, John Bolan, Thomas McKinney, Dr. J. T. Lawless, J. J. Murphy, J. C. Phelan, Chas. J. Kirschner, Peter Whelan, M. J. Malone, Frank Gorman, and others.

The clergymen who participated in the ceremonies were Rev. Fathers T. P. McCarthy, P. Barry, A. Eller, S. Wieczorek, N. Kolasinsky, Kramp, S. J., Nueller, S. J., Roecker, S. J., E. Hannin, Nugaret, Berger, J. Danenhofer, R. Sidley, Sandusky; Moran, Clyde; S. Manning, Fremont; C. Chevraux, Norwalk; P. Danenhofer, Norwalk; Monsigneur Thrope, Cleveland; T. P. O'Brien, Cleveland; Kleekamp, Six Mile Woods; G. H. Rieker, Perrysburg; J. B. Mortes, Maumee; Heffel, Delphos; Vollmayer, Custer; Philipart, Ottoville; Braschler, Fort Jennings.

The customary services were observed. The priests, headed by Bishop Horstman, marched in procession from the residence of Father McCarthy and ascending the platform proceeded to bless the church. First the altar or place where the altar will be was blessed, and then the procession, with much difficulty, owing to the crowd, made a circuit of the church, chanting as it went, the customary prayers and hymns. It was an impressive and interesting ceremony.

The Bishop's Address.

Returning to the corner stone, which was now laid, Bishop Horstman delivered a brief address.

"My dear children in Christ," he began, "I thank you for the hearty welcome. The reception you have tendered me is an evidence of your Catholic faith, loyalty, love and obedience. You recognize in me your spiritual father, shepherd and ruler. I am here as the representative of St. Peter and of Pope Leo XIII.

"It is this love, this loyalty, that is the best protection of your Catholic faith. What shall I say to you that shall be fitting the occasion?"

The right reverend gentleman then proceeded to explain the meaning of the ceremonies just witnessed. The ceremony of consecrating a house that would be devoted to the services of God, he said, should be accompanied with the pomp seen there. The corner stone itself was a symbol of Jesus Christ—the corner stone of the living church.

Bishop Horstman, continuing, said he desired to bring out one thought. We were still, he said, within the Eastertide. Jesus Christ had constituted his apostles, his successors on earth, to carry out His great work. The Catholic and Apostolic church had the right and privilege she claimed direct from Jesus Christ. The bishops were the lineal descendants of the apostles. It was one unbroken line from St. Peter to Pope Leo.

Who can contest, he asked, the rights to our claim? In the days of the Roman empire, as now, the Catholic church extended everywhere where civilized man existed.

The speaker quoted scriptural texts to prove his argument and observed that with these promises direct from Christ himself, how was it possible for the church to fail or fall? He referred to the vatican council, whereat were gathered 800 bishops from all parts of the civilized world, as an evidence of the catholicity of the church.

In conclusion he appealed to the people of the Immaculate Conception parish to assist their pastor in the great task he had undertaken. Again he thanked those present for their attendance, and concluded by giving his blessing.

The bishop and priests then proceeded to the parochial residence, where a brief reception was held and dinner served.

Credit to Whom It Is Due.

Next to Father McCarthy himself, who has worked early and late to make the event a success, the following gentlemen, who comprise the committee on arrangements, worked hard and are entitled to a great deal of credit:

Dr. James T. Lawless, chairman.
John M. Burns, secretary.

Description of the Church.

The new church of the Immaculate Conception stands on the corner of Broadway and Maumee avenue. The contractors are Gorman Bros., and they propose making a model edifice. It is 95 feet front with three main entrances and two towers. In length it is 159.2 feet over all. The pillars are 51.8 from water line to first arch. The seating capacity outside the altar will be 64x62 feet. The towers will be 185 feet high and of stone and brick. The transcepts 36 feet in width and 65 feet high. The cost will be in the neighborhood of $44,000.

The Ladies in Line.

The ladies of the Immaculate Conception did themselves proud yesterday. While the procession was en route they were preparing an elaborate lunch for the doubtlessly weary, wet and hungry visitors. There were not as many strangers from outside towns present as was expected, but those who did attend availed themselves of the excellent luncheon prepared.

An immense tent, or rather a series of tents, looking somewhat like those of a circus, was the scene of the ladies' labors. The luncheon was in charge of the Tabernacle society, which is officered as follows: President, Miss Maggie Walsh; vice-president, Miss Annie Henry; secretary, Miss Nellie Danford; treasurer, Mrs. J. Lenahand. Besides the above the following ladies participated: Mrs. J. Cowder, Mrs. J. Downes, Mrs. J. Crawford, Mrs. M. Dean, Mrs. M. Martin, Miss Agnes Higgins, Mrs. J. Linehen, Mrs. P. Christy, Mrs. J. Burget, Mrs. A. Henry, Mrs. D. McMillan, Mrs. J. C. Phelan, Miss Mary Burke, Miss B. Cassidy, Miss M. Crowe, Miss McGahan, Mrs. N. Mathews, Mrs. M. F. Walsh, Mrs. N. Crennans, Mrs. E. Carver, Miss Annie McCarthy, Mrs. J. Mangan. Assistants: Misses Abbie and Nora Fitzgerald, Maggie O'Grady, Annie Murphy, Kitty Kehoe, Lizzie Roach, Lizzie Butler, Lizzie Herbert, Nellie Doyle, Clara Whetten, Annie Murray, Annie Kehoe.

The Parade.

The parade was a splendid success, regardless of mud and the incessant downfall of rain. It was generally supposed that the parade would be abandoned, but it seems the determined spirit of the participants had not been considered, in this supposition. The drenching rain failed to dampen their ardor. They had resolved to turn out, and turn out they did. If the rain did not affect the spirit of the occasion, it certainly did the cambric and regalia which, of course, marred the beauties of the parade; but the determination to turn out regardless of personal comfort and appearance, was more beautiful than bright cambrics and golden regalia.

At 11 o'clock the various divisions began to form in the tributary streets intersecting Cherry street, and at 1:30 p. m. the first division marched down Cherry street, and the column was formed by the division swinging into line from the side streets in regular order. The column extended from Madison street to the Union depot and there were 4,000 people in line.

The parade was made up of parishes, parish societies, fraternal societies, parish schools, bands and carriages.

The following report of the parade and its formation is made from the personal observation of Bee representatives and the figures are the result of actual count:

Grand Marshal Gorman and staff.

At the depot five carriages received the clergy, and led the parade to the church. The carriages were occupied as follows:

First carriage—Rt. Rev. Bishop, Mgr. Thorpe.

Second carriage—Dr. Maes, Father O'Brien, Father Hauck, Father Sidley.

Third carriage — Father Chevraux, Father Manning, Father Moran.

Fourth carriage—Father Bielem, Father Mertes, Father Kleekamp.

Fifth carriage—The reception committee.

The following visiting societies were also met at the depot:

St. Ann's Commandery, Knights of Father Matthew, of Fremont, 15.

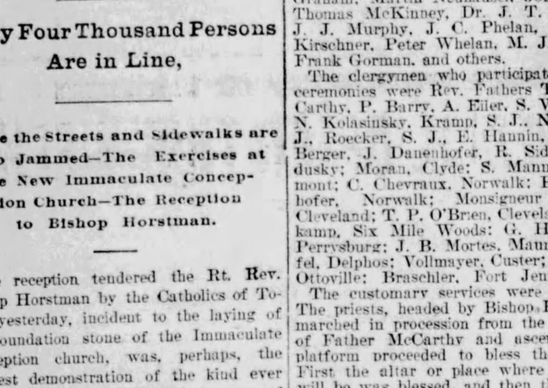
Ancient Order of Hibernians, Bellevue, 30.

Catholic Knights of St. John, Norwalk, 20.

The figures show 3,342 in line, not counting the bands or those in carriages.

The Bishop at St. Vincent's.

This morning Bishop Horstman celebrated mass at the Immaculate Conception church, and afterwards visited St. Vincent's hospital and orphanage, where the good sisters tendered him a cordial reception, which was also attended by the members of the hospital staff. The bishop, after much persuasion, has accepted the invitation of the Immaculate Conception Dramatic club to witness the performance of the Eileen Oge to-night at Wheeler's opera house.



Bishop Ignatius F. Horstman.

JUST SUITED TO THE PART.

"So you want to go on the stage," he said to the pretty but plainly dressed young woman.

"Yes, sir," she replied eagerly. "I think I am well fitted to make a success in the theatrical line if I only had a chance."

"Have you ever appeared before?"

"No, sir. But I am sure I should not be troubled with stage-fright, and I'm satisfied I could do well."

"What would you like to play?"

"Oh, I don't know. I wouldn't do for any of these grand dames."

"No?"

"No. At least not if an actress has to furnish her own wardrobe. In fact that would be the greatest trouble with me at first. I haven't much money, and really nothing to wear."

"And no way to get anything?"

"No, sir; not unless you advance me something on account."

"Just the thing!" exclaimed the manager, joyfully. "Consider yourself engaged to play Cleopatra in my new spectacle, and I won't have to advance you a cent."—Chicago Tribune.

Lieut. Bowen, who is in charge of the United States recruiting station in New Haven, has been asked by some members of the Yale faculty if it would be agreeable to him to succeed Lieut. Totten as military instructor in the Sheffield school, if his appointment be secured from the war department. He has not given a definite answer.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

The income of Herr Krupp is estimated at 6,000,000 marks a year.

Whitelaw Reid is not an epicure. He is fond of plain home-cooked food.

Prince Chimay, the well-known Belgian minister of foreign affairs, intends to resign his place, it is said, at the end of the present session of parliament.

William Waldorf Astor is in treaty for the purchase of the magnificent gold service which was given by the first Napoleon to his beautiful sister, Princes Pauline Borghese.

Henry Miller, probably the largest land owner in the San Joachin (Cal.) valley, was, forty years or so ago, a butcher boy, with scarcely a dollar of his own. He individually controls over 1,000,000 acres now and is believed to be worth between $30,000,000 and $40,000,000.

Lady O'Brien, the wife of the governor of Newfoundland, is much absorbed in the wives and children of the men engaged along the coast in the fishing industry, and has organized a small society to work up material into suitable clothing for her proteges.

Senator Butler does not allow his public duties to interfere with his private interests, and as he has intelligently seen that South Carolina is being overdone as the land produce crops for which there is a cotton growing state, he has turned his plantation into truck farms, and is making a profitable market.

There are few more rugged figures among the Scotch scholars of the present generation than is Professor Blackie, of Edinburgh. Though 83, he has never worn a pair of spectacles, and for thirty years he had no need for medical advice. He attributes the vitality of his old age to his custom of living by an unvarying system, and it is noteworthy that Oliver Wendell Holmes, who is about the same age and equally well preserved, told an interviewer some time ago that his own good health was due to his habit of living strictly by rule, even to the temperature of his bath. It is interesting to know that Professor Blackie does not go to bed until the clock strikes twelve. He rises at half past seven, and always after his mid-day meal he takes an hour's nap.

Miss Lettie Huntley,

Is the sister of Mr. W. S. Huntley, of Cortland, N. Y., a well known carpenter and builder. Her frank statement below gives only the absolute truth concerning her illness and marvelous recovery by the aid of Hood's Sarsaparilla. She says:

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Dear Sir: Twelve years ago I began to have hemorrhages and four years ago became so low that the physicians told me

There Was No Hope

and I should soon die. I could not be moved from my bed. Under my face were napkins continually reddened with blood from my mouth. I could eat nothing and had no action of the bowels for a week. The doctors said the cause was ulcers in the stomach. At this time my mother said she wanted to make one more trial, and asked if I would take Hood's Sarsaparilla. I told her it would be

A Waste of Money

but finding it would comfort her, I began taking it. In a few days the bloating began to subside, I seemed to feel a little stronger, but thought it only fancy. I was so weak I could only take ten drops of Sarsaparilla at first. In two weeks I was able to sit up a few minutes every day. In a month I could walk across the room. One day I asked what they were to have for dinner, and said I wanted something hearty. My mother was so happy she cried. It was the

First Time I had Felt Hungry for Two Years

I kept on with Hood's Sarsaparilla and in six months was as well as ever in my life. It is now four years since I recovered, and I have not had a day's sickness since, nor any hemorrhage. If ever a human being thanked the good Lord on bended knees it was I. I know that Hood's Sarsaparilla, and that alone, unquestionably Saved my Life."

Messrs. Sawyer & Jennings, the well known druggists of Cortland, say that Miss Huntley "is a highly respected lady; her statement of what

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Has done for her is worthy the highest confidence." Hood's Pills cure Liver Ills.

NEW DRAMATIC CLUB.

A Meeting Called for the Purpose of Organizing.

A meeting of local amateurs and those dramatically inclined will be held Wednesday evening, at 7:30, at Elks' hall, 408 Superior street, for the purpose of organizing a dramatic club. Those interested in the organization of such a club are invited to attend.

NEW CITY OFFICERS

Take Hold of Municipal Affairs this Morning.

The newly elected city officials took possession of their respective offices this morning and the previous incumbents stepped down and out. Engineer John R. Miller has appointed as his assistants J. G. Kaney and M. F. O'Sullivan, and other changes will soon be made in this department.

DIED WHILE PLAYING CARDS.

The Sudden Call of a Fifth Ward Tailor Saturday Night.

Moritz Fennon, a Fifth ward tailor, died very suddenly at the home of Conrad Jaeger, on Broadway, Saturday night. He was playing cards with his host when suddenly stricken and died a few minutes later. Coroner Beckwith pronounced the cause of death to be heart disease.

THE NEW RULES

Go Into Effect at the Internal Revenue Office.

The new rules pertaining to the working hours of employes of the internal revenue office went into effect this morning and are working nicely.

The time book at the revenue office shows that all were at work at 8:25, and the majority before that hour. The other rules are also being lived up to strictly.

DO YOU WANT BONDS?

Well, There Is a Chance to Buy Some This Evening.

A meeting of the ways and means committee of the council will be held this evening for the purpose of selling three lots of bonds, as follows: Collingwood avenue from Detroit avenue to bridge over Ottawa river, $4,750; sewer No. 355 in Canal avenue and alleys, $7,100; sewer 351 in Junction avenue, $13,500.

THE BRICKLAYERS.

All Are at Work this Morning, Save the Employes of One Firm.

The bricklayers' trouble is about over, and all the men are at work save those who have been working for Gorman Bros. It is understood that this firm will agree to the wages that the others are paying within a day or two.

"We were all notified of the proposed advance last February," said a contractor this morning, "and it is unfair to the men to say that the advance came unawares."

ARNOLD ALBRECHT'S WIDOW

Sues the Consolidated for Ten Thousand Dollars.

In common pleas court to-day Bertha Albrecht filed suit against the Consolidated Street Railway company to recover $10,000 damages for the death of her husband, Arnold Albrecht, of the German Express, whom it will be remembered was killed January 3, 1892 by falling from the rear platform of a Consolidated electric car, at the corner of Erie and Monroe streets.

The plaintiff alleges that the injury was caused by the negligent and unskilfull manner in which the car was managed.

WANT A DIVISION,

And a Petition to That Effect is Filed in Court.

In Common Pleas court to-day, Lida S. Platt, individually, Lida S. Platt, sole executrix of the will of Edwin S. Platt, deceased, Edwin and Frances Platt, minors by their next friend, Lida S. Platt, through their attorneys, Doyle, Scott & Lewis, filed a petition against Harvey P. Platt, instituting partition proceedings for the division of property in East Toledo.

The plaintiffs allege that they have an estate of inheritance in fee simple in the premises, equal to the undivided one-half, and that Harvey P. Platt owns the other undivided half.

UNDERTAKER'S WAGON

Knocked Into Smithereens by an Electric Car.

Yesterday morning, about 10 o'clock, Consolidated car No. 123 collided with Karl Matthies' fine fine casket wagon on Ottawa street, near the C., H. & D. freight house.

The driver of the wagon was compelled to cross the track at this point on account of the curve into Bridge street.

The deck of the wagon was composed mostly of glass, and there was not much left of the vehicle but the running gear. The wagon cost $700, and was damaged about $200 worth.

BURGLAR CAUGHT

While Leaving a House with An Arm Load of Plunder.

A man giving the name of Richard Ellwood entered the house of Alexander Dawson, 1927 Michigan street, Saturday night, and after eating a lunch, helped himself to a quantity of silverware and an overcoat. He did not get a chance to enjoy his plunder, however, as he was caught just outside by Patrolman Siegel. He was arraigned in police court this morning and bound over to the common pleas court on a charge of burglary, with bail fixed at $800.

SPORTING GOSSIP.

Toledo Hasn't Played in So Long She May Forget How.

It was too wet for Toledo to play ball in Minneapolis on Saturday and the wires say it was too cold to play there Sunday. But regardless of the cold in Minneapolis, Columbus played two games in St. Paul, only a few miles away and won both. This would look queer on the surface, but there is nothing queer about it. The sentiment in Minneapolis is against Sunday ball playing. Both teams would have been arrested had they played. Minneapolis has been making a big bluff about playing Sunday ball, but when the time came to play she did not even try to save her ass.

THE UNITARIAN CHURCH.

Annual Meeting of the Congregation Last Night.

A large portion of the membership of the Church of Our Father met last evening at Memorial hall in annual meeting. The pastor and officers of the church submitted their reports, showing what was accomplished during the year, and all of them were very satisfactory. When this portion of the business was concluded, the board of trustees was elected as follows: James Melvin, F. Hathaway, R. C. Lemmon, A. E. Macomber, D. W. Camp, A. J. Rummel, Mrs. Sarah Bissell, Mrs. E. W. Rakestraw and Mrs. Lucie Harmon.

INSTITUTION VISITORS.

They Must Be Appointed by Presiding Judges of Common Pleas Court.

A circular has been received by County Clerk Bronson calling attention to the law passed by the legislature making it mandatory on the presiding judge in each county to appoint boards of county visitors. It is made the duty of these boards to inspect the benevolent institutions of the county and exercise certain supervision over public charities. When proceedings are instituted in the probate court to admit a child under 16 years of age to either the boys' or girls' industrial homes, it is made the duty of the board to attend the hearing and protect the interests of the child. The board is to consist of six persons, three of whom shall be women and not more than three shall belong to the same political party. The judges will not, under the amended law, be permitted to ignore the statutes and the boards must be appointed.

HOME AGAIN.

Toledo Delegates to the National Car Inspectors' Convention.

Messrs. J. E. Fitzjohn and J. J. Preston, who with G. M. Camply, one of the supreme officers, attended the annual meeting at St. Louis, of the Car Inspectors' Protective Association of North America, have returned home, and express themselves as much pleased with their treatment, as satisfied with the work of the convention. Several amendments to the laws were adopted, the most important of which was the striking out the clause which prevented strikes. The supreme officers elected were: Supreme chief inspector, L. E. Evans, New Orleans, who also volunteered to act as organizer; supreme assistant inspector, S. J. Tomblen, Chicago; supreme junior inspector, J. Mostberger, Buffalo; supreme prelate, W. W. Harkins, Chattanooga; supreme trustees, T. Russell, Philadelphia; H. Schlobohm, Pittsburg; T. Gillan, New Orleans. Mayor Noonan turned over the freedom of the city to the boys. Maumee lodge, No. 2, of this city, was well represented by the gentlemen named.

AN INTERESTING LECTURE.

Prof. Wright's Story of His Own Journey amidst the Lava Beds.

Memorial hall held a large and intelligent audience Saturday night to listen to Prof. Wright's lecture on the lava beds of the Pacific coast and man's relation thereto. There is a charm in being "personally conducted," and the large and handsome views shown upon the canvas, with Prof. Wright for guide over the pathway and into the presence of wonderful phenomena that he had investigated, was delightful and instructive in an eminent degree. Steadily increasing audiences show the popularity of the lecturer, his topic and its manner of treatment. The announcement of pictorial illustration is always one which wins. These views fix a fact or condition in mind as word picturing and imagination alone are not able to do. The Calevaras skull and the little image thrown up with the lava and gravel at Nampa village in the Idaho plains, are conclusive proofs of man's existence on this portion of the globe at this period. The skull is a puzzler to scientists who have an evolution theory formulated, in that it has full forehead and is well shaped, giving no evidence of having belonged to a lower order. The lecture to-night will be in High School hall, the topic: The Distribution of the Native Races of America. Stereopticon views of types and localities will be presented.

POLITICAL EQUALITY CLUB.

Very Interesting Meeting Held on Saturday Afternoon.

The pleasant parlors of Mrs. E. P. Harley were well filled Saturday afternoon with the circle of interested and interesting ladies who comprise the membership of the Political Equality club. In the absence of President Murphy, Mrs. Maud Dutton was elected temporary chairman. The secretary, Mrs. Beeley, read a communication from the president regretting her enforced absence and naming the ladies appointed to represent the club at the state convention, which meets this month at Salem, O. The appointees are: Mrs. M. E. Bentley, Mrs. S. I. Moore, Mrs. A. P. Stevens; alternates, Mrs. E. P. Harley, Miss Louise Obermiller, Miss Nell Nolan. The committee appointed to make inquiries as to the feasibility of having a "Suffrage Day" at the exposition are, Mrs. Fannie Beeley, Mrs. E. P. Harley, Miss Louise Obermiller. Mrs. Dutton then read a chapter from Fiske's "Civil Governments," after which Mrs. Rinehart conducted the parliamentary drill on "dependent motions." The resolution, "Resolved, That all Women Suffragists be required to march on Labor Day," evoked much lively discussion, and many able arguments pro and con; amendments were offered, but the "previous question" finally prevailed, closing the debate.

On account of the occasional unavoidable absence of the president of the club, and the inability of the vice-president to act, it was decided to choose a second vice-president, and Mrs. Rinehart was elected to fill that office.

After the appointment of a committee to conduct the next parliamentary drill the meeting adjourned to meet with Mrs. A. Clough, 1718 Adams street, Saturday afternoon, May 14.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

"The Pay Train."

The charming soubrette, Miss Florence J. Bindley, will be at the Peoples' Theater this week with her successful comedy drama, "The Pay Train." The play is one of great interest and wide popularity, and the star is one of the prettiest, brightest, and most accomplished soubrette that graces the American stage. She has made a tremendous hit in the Pay Train, and its merits as a railway melodrama are such that the Boston board of engineers presented Miss Bindley with a miniature train. The story is on of intense interest and so constructed as to please the masses. Pathos and comedy is equally divided and tears and laughter alternate, the scenic effects are most realistic.

Florida on Wheels.

The Florida exhibition car arrived in this city this morning and was side-tracked at the Union depot. It is a beautiful specimen of car architecture, containing an excellent display of the fruits, minerals and products of water and land of Florida, including live and stuffed alligators, pictures of scenery, places and sights in Florida, tobacco, corn, fruit and vegetation. Interesting Florida literature is dispensed, and the exhibition, even to an uninterested party, is worth the paltry sum of 10 cents charged, which is simply to keep out the throng which would only visit the place out of idle curiosity, and not with a view of becoming educated by the sight. One end of the car is fitted up as a living room, in palatial style.

THE SISTERS ENTERTAIN

The Rt. Rev. Bishop Horstman at St. Vincent's.

Charming Entertainment at St. Vincent's Orphanage and Hospital This Afternoon—Program.

The Rt. Rev. Bishop Horstman was charmingly entertained at St. Vinvent's hospital this forenoon. He drove from the Immaculate Conception parochial residence, accompanied by the Rev. Father Sidley, of Sandusky, and Kamp, of St. Mary's, Cherry street.

The children and sisters met and greeted the bishop at the door, the little ones being drawn up in line.

Upon his entrance Bishop Horstman was presented with the following address:

Right Rev. I. F. Horstman:

My Lord: We, the humble wards and wardens of West St. Vincent's, are gathered here to-day to give expression to the joy with which we hail your advent among us.

We rejoice at being within the pale of your sheepfold, numbered among your favored flock, and the special objects of your paternal solicitude.

May the Supreme Shepherd, whose worthy Vicar you are, foster and cement our mutual relations.

If our Lord deign to hear our humble prayer you will be long spared to rule and cherish the flock committed to your care of which and of Christ's sheep-elect not yet of the fold, may you one day have the consolation to answer: I have not lost one!

Deign, my Lord, to accept the tender of the respectful submission, and filial attachment of your humble children of St. Vincent's.

Afterwards the following original song was sung by the little ones:

Here we meet in mystic number,
Songs and speeches to repeat,
Summarized in four living letters,
Graced by image and music sweet.
Chorus, Tra la la la.

As we tread the mazy measure,
On our bishop still intent,
Harmony lends its charm to pleasure,
Figured salve to represent.
Chorus.

In thy presence, all too fleeting,
Voices, hearts and forms unite;
Filial love inspires the greeting,
We in animate signs, indite.
Chorus.

Long live our devoted bishop,
Be he all his names imply,
"Inigo"—ardent—"Frederick"—peaceful,
Well his character testify.

Last chorus:

Now you have read in our mazy spelling
All we had uttered in speech and song;
Reverent welcome from fond hearts willing
To the imaged word "Hail" belong.

The children again sang the following original song:

Song of Greeting to Rt. Rev, Ig. F. Horstman.

Ten thousand welcomes b eto thee,
Beloved Bishop Horstman,
Pastor of Cleveland's favored See,
Where all with one accord
Thy advent greet, my Lord,
Warm love from fond hearts springing,
Blend with sweet voices ringing,
While we repeat our melody,
We love, we welcome thee.

To bear the yoke of Prelacy,
May angel hosts attending,
Strew o'er with flowers from thorns all free
Your onward, upward way,
While here on earth you stay,
Our fervent prayers ascending
With thanks and wishes blending,
Lowly and simple though they be,
They will avail for thee.

The right reverend gentleman replied feelingly, and thanked and blessed the little ones and the sisters.

At the conclusion of the exercises the little ones petitioned for a Conge in the following pretty verse:

"Lambkins have no other way
To evince their love and glee,
Than by frolic, mirth and play,
From restraint of routine free.
Shepherds love their lambkins best,
Then My Lord, to let you see
How we love our Bishop blest,
Grant us all a grand conge."

It was readily granted, and the children and nuns are enjoying a holiday in consequence.

STRIKE IN THE VALLEY

Three Thousand Men on a Strike.

The Miners Throw Down Their Picks and Idleness Reigns Supreme at the Mines.

Three thousand miners went out on strike in the Hocking valley this morning.

All the miners in the Sunday Creek Coal company's employ went out.

The trouble has been anticipatde for some time, and arose out of the fact that the companies refuse to accept "dirty" coal.

This morning notices were placarded at all the mines that clean coal must be furnished or none at all. The compassed resolutions as follows:

Whereas, The proposition made to the operators of the Sunday Creek Valley, on Saturday, March 19th, was of such a character as to work injury, both to the operator and the miner, by reason of causing delay in the loading of the coal, thereby stopping the turn of the mines to that extent, and causing a serious loss to the operator in the delay of the day labor and the stopping of the mines, therefore, we cannot accept the said proposition; but have adopted the following, which we demand shall be complied with:

Resolved, That the system of double docking be adopted by the operators of the Sunday Creek Valley.

Resolved, That any miner, or miners, sending out three (3) cars of dirty coal in one day, shall be suspeneded for three days, and their names posted in a conspicuous place.

Resolved, That, if the same miners are suspended twice in the same month, if they send out bad coal a third time in the same month, sufficient for suspension, they be discharged.

Mr. G. G. Hadley said to a Bee this afternoon:

"The strike is on, but I don't think it will last. The fact is, we have agreed to pay 70 cents a ton for clean coal or stop mining. The men can do just as they please, but we propose remaining firm."

DIED.

GLEASON—Sunday morning, Mrs. Johannah, youngest daughter of Cornelius and Mary Garvin.

Funeral Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock from Immaculate Conception church. Friends of family invited.

LAMSON—At the residence, No. 123 West Woodruff avenue, in this city, May 1, 1892, Laura E., wife of M. H. Lamson, aged 63 years.

Funeral from the Ashland Avenue Baptist church Tuesday, at 3 p. m.

Mrs. Lamson was the daughter of Hon. John D. Rhoades, and was born at Stanhope, New Jersey, November 13, 1828. At an early age she removed with her parents to Elliridge, N. Y., at which place she resided until about four years ago, when she and her husband removed to Toledo. She was married Feb. 16, 1848, at Elliridge, N. Y. She leaves a husband and four children mourning her, all of whom reside in Toledo. Her three sons compose the firm of Lamson Bros. At an early age Mrs. L. united with the First Baptist church at Elliridge, and until her removal to Toledo was a most faithful and efficient member. On her removal to Toledo she united with the Ashland Avenue Baptist church.

During the war while her husband was in the service of his country she was very efficient in the work of the Woman's Aid association for the relief of the sick and wounded soldiers. She was pre-eminently a most devoted and tender mother. No effort was too severe, no self-denial too great for the accomplishment of whatever she believed necessary for the welfare of her husband or children.

Possessed of a vigorous constitution and of strong common sense, the sick, the needy and the troubled always found in her a trusted friend.

She has completed a noble life work. Before entering into rest she rejoiced in seeing much precious fruit from her labors.

If Mr. Doville was elected police commissioner for a purpose he is slow in showing his hand.

The democrats of Detroit held a very harmonious convention in Harmonie hall on Saturday. The hall and the committee were mates.

Mr. Griffin is not certain, but he thinks he will capture the republican nomination for congress. Hope he will.

If Capt. J. Kent Hamilton banks on dignity, as appearances indicate, he will not come within forty-seven miles of the republican nomination for congress.

Latest advices from Washington indicate that the Pure Fraud bill, otherwise known as the Pure Food bill, has been laid to rest for this season. May it be a sleep that knows no waking.

Gov. Ashley is "sawing wood and saying nothing," but just the same he expects the republican nomination for congress. But it is not at all certain that he could be elected, even in this strong republican district.

If any Republican believes that Cleveland convention which Charley Foster did not approve in advance, he doesn't know the two men. And what Mr. Foster approves can not be far removed from the desire of the administration, which Gov. Foraker does not like just a little bit.

The two-thirds rule in the democratic national convention this year may serve the party well by compelling the nomination of a candidate who can be elected. Principle should be a strong impellant, but sentiment should be left at home by the delegates. A winner is wanted and he must be a man who can carry New York. Is there any assurance just now that either Cleveland or Hill can carry New Yory?

As an evidence of how harmonious the newspaper men of Chicago are in a business way it may be remarked that the very superior marine news which the Bee prints is supplied by a company owned and operated by Mr. Penn Nixon of the Inter-Ocean, R. W. Patterson, of the Tribune, James W. Scott, of the Herald, and Carter Harrison, of the Times. The only rivalry now with the big papers of Chicago is as to which can print the best paper; in business they are united, and consequently prosperous.

The New York World remarks: "Three years ago Thomas C. Platt used President Harrison to club Warner Miller. Now he is using Warner Miller to club President Harrison." This is the sort of thing time's whirligig brings round in politics, now and then. It will be remembered Thomas C. Platt has himself felt the political club, and republicanism in New York may see worse days than it has yet fallen upon before Mr. Platt's thirst for vengeance is altogether quenched.

This is another chunk of the harmony prevailing in the republican ranks, from the Columbus Dispatch of Saturday:

The Hon. William H. Hahn, because of having been chairman of the state executive committee and claiming to represent the administration, insisted upon being made a delegate-at-large to the national convention. To oblige him, the choice of the Hon. Charles Foster, Gen. William H. Gibson, the old hero of many political battles, modestly and generously withdrew for the sake of harmony and Mr. Hahn was elected. The consensus of opinion among the "boys" is that Mr. Hahn, in view of the fact that Gen. Wikoff, Judge Nash and other able men who have served the party with ability at the head of its executive committee and who have never insisted upon state or national recognition on that account, bit off enough at Cleveland to check his future political progress.

There is one democrat who ought to be made a delegate-at-large to the Chicago convention without question. We refer to Senator Brice. His distinguished leadership and his most honorable position suggest the propriety of this solution. He lives in northwestern Ohio and might be accredited to this section in selecting the four, but really this should not be taken into account. He is from Ohio, big enough to represent the whole state with dignity, and wisdom. As chairman of the national committee the democracy of Ohio should feel a pride in sending him to the convention as the leader of the delegation. No doubt the delegates at the state convention will consider this matter in the light presented by the Bee and it is more than probable that he will be the unanimous choice of the convention.

In the Raum investigation on Friday last a witness, Special Agent Greenawalt, testified, after assurances that he would not be prosecuted, that by Commissioner Raum's order he set a trap to induce Commissioner Cooper ,of Indiana, to violate the law. Greenawalt went to Indiana and gave a pension attorney $25 to hand to Cooper, as a fee in a pension case. Mr. Cooper not only is familiar with the law, but he is an honest man, and he promptly returned the money. Greenawalt went upon the stand as a witness for Raum, but under the shrewd examination of the committee he revealed the whole plot of the commissioner to ruin a congressman whom he disliked. All these parties, Cooper and Raum live in Indiana, and the committance must be familiar to that other Hoosier, Mr. Benjamin Harrison, temporarily president of the United States of America. The verdict of the American people is that Commissioner Raum has done many things for which he should be removed. This last reason is added weight to the popular verdict. If, in the light of many disgraceful revelations, the president further shields Raum, the public will not be slow to believe that Harrison is no better than Raum. It is high time for a change. The scandal is offensive..

AN UNWELCOME PARTNER.

No better arraignment of the policy of high protection, from the business man's standpoint, was ever made than is presented in the current number of the Forum by Mr. Ulysses D. Eddy. He is, the Forum publishers tell us, president of a New York business firm "which has an export trade with all the foreign countries with which we deal. He has traveled considerably, and his large practical experience has made him an authority on commercial affairs."

"My Business Partner, the Government," Mr. Eddy heads his paper, and he goes in to show how his partner, "self-injected," interferes, meddles, prohibits, and in various ways damages his business.

The article must be read to be fully appreciated, and is indeed worthy of careful perusal as a fair, full and forceful presentation of the way American business has been prostrated and American commerce with foreign countries hindered by prohibitive tariff enactments. The writer is especially happy in his portrayal of the failure of that shrewd bargain driver, the postmaster-general, to make contracts for having the mail carried under the American flag, and in showing the reasons for the collapse of the Pan-American schemes.

As for the foolish course the government took in enacting the McKinley bill Mr. Eddy says this side-partner of his was influenced by "famed associates," who "imposed on him by false statements, which was very easy, as he is necessarily very ignorant about such things. They pleaded the baby act for stalwart industries; they bribed with funds for campaign purposes; they frightened by threatening the withdrawal of political support, and disquieted their workmen by glowing predictions. As a result they had their will."

"As importers," Mr. Eddy says with justifiable bitterness, "we were presumably of bad character, to be watched as men who did not have the good of the country at heart." As exporters, their market was taken from them because such of the customers as wanted to exchange goods for goods are prohibited from bringing in their goods for the exchange. Evidently this great house of export and import finds no sop in the much-vaunted "reciprocity." In conclusion Mr. Eddy says: "The law forbids a special partner to interfere with the management of a business in which he has an interest. This is to protect the general partners from inexpert meddling. I cannot but long for the day when my uninvited special partner, the government of the United States, shall be prohibited from blundering interference and be relegated to his proper function. Then the business energy now wasted in overcoming unnecessary friction, in rectifying blunders, in doing things in a poor way when a better way exists (all of which arises from the interference of my partner, the government) could be expended in the extension and enlargement of a business which would give a profit to ourselves and a large foreign outlet to the surplus product of American manufacturers."

GRIFFIN'S DISTINCT FAILURE.

As a key-note sounder, Charles P. Griffin, of Toledo, is a failure, as everybody supposed he would be. His speech at the opening of the republican state convention at Cleveland, Wednesday, is more remarkable for what it does not say than for what it does say. The first part of it was a eulogy of the past in which there is nothing new and the second part was eulogy for the leaders of the present, which every one familiar with the facts, so far as Mr. Griffin is concerned, must believe was specially designed to catch cheers. Where Mr. Griffin told the truth he was insincere, and where he was sincere he misrepresented the facts.

The speech as a key-note was a failure, probably because of Mr. Griffin's inability to discuss the questions which must form the issues for this presidential year. His own weakness seems to have been recognized by the speaker, and he is to be given credit for his wisdom in not attempting that in which he was bound to reveal his lack of strength and his supporters' lack of wisdom in putting him to the front when there was a score of men at the very least in active politics who could have done the work he tried to do, with real ability. It was certainly the height of folly to choose a tyro in statesmanship to sound the key-note in a year when all the principles of the republican party were to be thoroughly discussed in a national contest. The folly was all the greater when it is considered that the Ohio republicans had within call a man who more than any other republican in the nation is identified with the chief issues, Governor Wm. McKinley. But it was the purpose of the men who chose Mr. Griffin to do, not that which was best for the party, but that which seemed to signalize their factional and personal victory.

It is to be hoped that Mr. Griffin and his friends are satisfied with the spectacle which they have made. For if they do not find justification in their own minds, they will certainly not find it elsewhere.—Columbus Sunday News.

When Harrison is renominated, all the members of his family and his wife's family and his son's wife's family whom he has put in office should be formally renominated with him. Any good, reliable democratic paper can furnish the list for the use of the Minneapolis convention.—St. Louis Republic.

READY FOR THE BALLOT

Water Works to be Decided at the Polls.

A Strong Fight Being Made at Napoleon.

The Young Republicans Who Were Turned Down Propose to Make a Heap of Trouble in theFuture.

Napoleon, O., May 2.—(Special)—Tomorrow will witness the greatest special election ever held in Napoleon. The issue its water works. It is like attempting to locate a future cyclone to predict any result except a close one.

When the ordinance first passed the council to submit the question to the people, had the election been held then, the proposition would have carried by a three-fourths vote.

But since the enabling act passed the legislature and a day was set for the election, the opposing forces have donned fighting apparel and waded in.

It is needless to say that the water works majority has been whittled down perceptibly, yet the advocates claim the election by at least a two-thirds vote.

It seems to be old men versus the young —an attempt by the young men to shake off the century-ago-way of doing business and substitute more improved methods.

They claim that it will not increase the town debt one dollar; instead it will be more than self-supporting, thus providing a means to liquidate our present indebtedness. And indeed they cite figures in substantiation of their propositions.

On the other hand the opposition is using as a weapon the fact that in bonding the town for $60,000 for this purpose our debts, including general roads and share of county debt would aggregate over $100,000, or over one-sixth of the duplicate valuation.

Of course were this literally true, the water works forces would take to the woods; but since it has been demonstrated beyond a reason of a doubt that the plant would at least be self-sustaining, with prospects of the creation of a sinking fund to take up the bonds, while the "antis" are working on the credulity of the "cons" not a few "antis" are joining the "pros." It is a case of "dog eat dog," and only to-morrow will tell which downs the other.

Teachers Meet.

The Henry county teachers to the number of over 100 met at the Union school building Saturday and held a quarterly institute. The instructors were Profs. Printis, Beck and Darrow, who handled the institute to a queen's taste. The next institute will be an "annual," held some time in the fall.

A Republican Row.

The most disastrous eruption that has ever existed in the local republicanism is that created by the method employed in selecting delegates to the district and state conventions. The bosses, as has already been related, threw sand in the herd's eyes and even overstepped the bounds of discretion by carelessly telling it (the herd) that time would bring them around.

The interesting and funny part of this is that time is only adding fuel to the flame, as each detail of the rotten schemes is unearthed.

The "old fellows" have been manipulating affairs for a half century and are very chary of taking any of the young bucks into confidence beyond to say, "we lead, you ask no questions and follow."

Oft had this order of things been kicked against, but the kick never merged into open conflict until the occasion mentioned above. It was an out and out fight against the old regime resulting in the said aged manipulators still doing business at the old stand.

The defeated have repaired to their homes over the county to organize better and be prepared for the next clash which will come at the first opportunity.

Nearly all of the "old school" live in Napoleon, while the younger element who suffered such defeat hails from rural districts, Holgate, and small towns in the county.

IT IS BEING SETTLED UP

The Claflin-Miller Contract Controversy.

Distribution of Funds Ordered by Judge Lemmon This Morning— The Claims Allowed.

As was stated in the Bee quite recently matters in the Claflin Paving company and John R. Miller difficulty are about settled.

In common pleas court this morning Judge Lemmon made an order for the distribution of funds in the hands of the receiver to pay undisputed claims. As to undisputed claims a sufficient amount was ordered deposited in bank on interest until such claims were adjusted.

Of the Platt claim of $20,000 there was $12,000 undisputed. This was money loaned on contracts assigned as security.

The remaining $8,000 is claimed by Mr. Platt as commission for service in negotiating the loans. This claim is disputed by the unsecured creditors on the ground that the money loaned was his own, and that there is no commission due.

The following undisputed claims have been ordered paid: Waynesburgh Brick company, $8,500; Canton & Malvern Brick company, $5,000; Lake Erie Sand company, $1,100; P. & T. Degnan, builders, $1,800; total, $28,400.

This leaves a balance of $11,600 in the receiver's hands.

THE SHERIFF'S FEE FUND

Failed to Pay Expenses During Its Life.

First Pay Day Under the Fee System and Sheriff Stuart Goes Down in His Own Pocket to Pay Up.

On the 13th of last month the salary law with regard to the sheriff's office in Toledo was repealed, and the fee system reinstated, but at a reduced rate.

The sheriff's office of Lucas county did not seem to thrive under the performance of the new law.

There was not a single month during the life of the salary law that the sheriff's fee fund paid the salaries in full, and Sheriff Stuart has not drawn a cent of salary in this time.

This morning he paid the deputies $317 back salaries including the month of April.

There is now due the sheriff as salary $972.29, which he will have to collect from business transacted before April 13, which will about balance accounts.

The office is now being conducted under the fee system.

FOSTORIA NOTES.

Fostoria, May 2.—(Special)—The republicans selected the following delegates to the congressional convention last Saturday night: First ward, T. J. Hissong, C. G. Barnd; Third ward, T. G. Laros, G. W. Cunningham; Fourth ward, C. A. Strauch; Fifth ward, F. R. Stewart, C. M. Berry.

Last Saturday night about midnight as Ike Davis was passing along the hallway leading to his room in the Lemp block he was attacked by W. Noe, who had a chisel in his hand. He struck Davis several blows across the face, cutting two severe gashes. Noe was finally overpowered and taken to the jail.

HALF A MILLION.

London's Streets Thronged with Workingmen on Parade.

London, May 2.—This city saw the greatest labor demonstration in its history on Sunday. The weather was bright and from early morning numberless processions of labor associations and socialistic societies thronged the streets in the vicinity of Hyde Park. All the men brought out their wives and children and choked the streets from wall to wall. Almost every organization had a band with it and at noon the din and confusion became terrific at the park entrances, although everybody was good natured and at 6 o'clock the police around the park had made arrests only for drunkenness and disorderly conduct in isolated cases.

But one incident of the day betrayed the dangerous undercurrent of the demonstrations. Shortly after noon a sentinel in the Woolwich arsenal discovered at the entrance of the gun factory a bag containing eight canisters loaded with dynamite, guncotton and cartridges.

He called in a policeman and the bag was removed. No fuse was attached to the canisters, but a detonator was found at the bottom of the bag. The plot was undoubtedly to destroy England's greatest arsenal, though thereby 17,000 men would have been thrown out of employment.

It has been a boast of the war office that no anarchist or socialist could be found in the arsenal. The police, however, although exceedingly reticent, acknowledge that the dynamite must have been placed by an arsenal workman, as the presence of a stranger would have been remarked by the guards. No arrests have been made.

Excepting this incident, nothing marred the peacefulness of the demonstration. By 2 o'clock there were fully 350,000 people in the park and between then and 5 o'clock the crowd swelled to half a million. Scores of meetings were held.

TWO MANXMEN

Visiting in Toledo During the Present Week.

A Little of the Isle of Man and the House of Keys, of Which the Gentlemen are Members— One of Them Delivers a Sermon.

Messrs. J. R. Cowell and J. T. Cowell, members of the House of Keys, of the Isle of Man, arrived in the city on Saturday evening, and are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Kewley, of Summit avenue. Both gentlemen attended the services at St. John's M. E. church yesterday, the latter making a pleasing address to the Sunday school, and the former preaching at night.

The distinguished visitors are pleasing talkers, and in conversation very entertaining. They have been on a tour of this country, and are now on their way to California, and express themselves as greatly pleased with their observations thus far. They will remain in Toledo all of this week. To-day the gentlemen visited the Bee office, Produce exchange and other places of interest. There are quite a colony of Manx people in Toledo, who will undoubtedly make their stay pleasan

The Isle of Man is one of the British possessions, in the Irish sea, about midway between England, Scotland and Ireland. The government is vested in the queen in council, the government and the "House of Keys," which consists of 24 members elected by the people for a term of seven years and whose concurrence is necessary to give validity to every law. The acts of the British parliament do not affect the Isle of Man unless expressly extended to it. The governor is appointed by the crown, and is assisted by a council of officers. Besides the ordinary civil and ecclesiastical courts there are ancient tribunals called the "Deemsters' courts," the judges of which, called "deemsters," are appointed by the crown, one from the south and another from the north division of the island. The court possesses very extended authority. The established religion is that of the church of England, under the Bishop of Sodor and Man, who has a seat in the Tynwald court, which is the meeting of both branches of the legislature. A large majority of the inhabitants are now Methodists, however.

The island was originally peopled by the Manx, a Celtic tribe, whose language, a sub-dialect of the Gaelic or Celtic, forming one branch with the Erse and Irish, is still spoken in some sections, though English is generally understood. The chief towns are Castletown, Peel, Douglass and Ramsay, the seat of government being at Douglass. The Messrs. Cowell represent the two last mentioned places in the House of Keys.

Hon. J. R. Cowell occupied the pulpit at St. John's last night. Before announcing his text he talked entertainingly of the island from which he came, and among other things stated he had stood on the steps where John Wesley had spoken, and had preached in the same chapel where his voice had been heard. Mr. Cowell felt that a bond of union existed between him and his congregation which made him feel comfortable. The gentleman took for his text, Mathew 4:4, "Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God." In Europe, as in America possibly, this first day of May seems to be recognized as a time when labor is disturbed, and those who read the papers have observed that there are signs of disquietude and unrest. He was not disposed to speak on this subject here, although it was an important one, but it is well to say, from time to time, there are other subjects just as important. Man has a physical frame, but besides he is possessed of another nature, which we cannot see or handle. The cattle on a thousand hills seem to be contented, but it is not so with human beings. There is universal dissatisfaction. The poor are, however, not altogether the unhappiest. The rich, who have wealth, and are ungodly are in the worst shape. It is true many of the poor lead lives of trouble and sorrow. He had known of many who had amassed fortunes, with every opportunity of gratification, but without God wealth did not make a happy man. There the is appearance of gayety and contentment; probe the life, and a different condition will be observed. The nearer one becomes like to God, the less he depends on material substances.

The text tells of God's marvellous doings. Man does not live by bread alone. If you depart from this rule, you will fail. The words were used in repelling the attack of Satan. Man must have bread. He must labor and strive for bread. The word bread is used in the same sense as is the Lord's prayer, which means to provide for our daily wants. What these may be can safely be left to man's conscience.

How is man to obtain these? There are those who labor not, but he spoke of those in this land, which is composed of working, laboring, active people. As a nation you are occupying a new territory, laboring actively in a perfectly justifiable manner. There is no nobler work than to labor for independence in old age; for the wife of your love; for the children who are the jewels of the family. There is real dignity in true labor, whether it be of brain, by the skilled man, from the tillage of the soil to moving the mighty power press. The day had passed when men were gentlemen because they were sons of their fathers. A man was largely judged now on his merits, which is the proper gauge.

How long should he labor? As long as his health and strength will enable him. He could not speak of America, but in London he had seen aged men, tottering on the verge of the grave, endeavoring to gain a livelihood. God has called all to honest labor, but there was a time when they had done their part, and should not labor after their zenith of life had been passed. There are millions of men who simply exist, but do not live. Many are living a purely animal life. Is this the life God wants us to live? We are here only to begin the life which shall never end. Man is not in his fixed state here. If this is the end, then let us eat, drink and be merry. But no! We are only preparing for the invisible world, where we shall begin to live the life which is eternal.

The words of the text must be regarded as a commandment. They are the thou shalt not. When man strives against God's shalt not he must fail. Every one who fights against God's word fights against God's law. The words are in harmony with God's law, and resistance will end in grinding him. God does not send men to perdition, but they go as a result of deliberate violation of God's law.

How shall man live? By every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God. He had the profoundest sympathy with the sincere agnostic mind, and with every one who was striving to honestly gain light. The greatest intellects of the day —Gladstone, Bright, Garfield and others of like character—humbled themselves and came down to the simplest teachings of the Bible, and this course must be pursued to get through the narrow gate.

How shall we learn as to the word? Take Christ's words; take the sermon on the Mount. We may learn by Christ's uttered words, but above all was the living Christ, against whose life and character never had any criticism been made. "I am that bread of life," said Christ. Take Him. His reign will be beneficial to the life that now is and that which is to come.

SPORTING NOTES.

Werden keeps up his good ball playing for St. Louis.

The Models defeated the Bluffs by a score of 32 to 16.

Van Dyke has applied to the Western league for a place.

By the result of Saturday and Sunday's play Milwaukee still leads, but Kansas City knocked off her one thousand per centage by winning a game. Columbus is now second and Kansas City third with Toledo fifth.

The Western league is not drawing the way people expected it to, and in fact only a few of the league cities are making any reputation in this line. It looks very much as if base ball was dying out and horse racing succeeding it. It will take some scientific work to place base ball back where it was before the war.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

Arbor Day Aftermath.

To the Editor: The subject of "House Gardening," as it is practiced in some parts of ous fair city, seems to me to be one worthy consideration and deserving encouragement by a lively press. Cleveland is called the Garden City. Toledo is in a fair way to merit the same pretty sobriquet. Why not appeal to the ladies, showing up the practical advantage and the beauty of popularizing the practice of house-gardening, the beauty of having a nice flower garden and of raising their own vegetables? Of pride in having a nice garden? Train up the children to hoe, weed, sprinkle, plant trees, how to succeed, etc.—no difficulty at all. Remember old Holland and Germany with their flower culture, vegetables and fruit—there's an educational feature in it also.

It is interesting to look up the parts of the city where the German element predominates. Is it not a delight to see their gardens, flowers, vegetables, grapes and orchards? With very little trouble our climate will produce almost anything.

Is it not worthy the progressive Bee to encourage "House-gardening," get the ladies interested in this work, organizing them by wards, setting out small prizes each season—garden tools, etc. With the Bee making a start first season, what might result?

I really never feel more contented after returning from my travels than when I sit in the midst of my growing garden. It is the height of sublime satisfaction to watch and see a new plant, a rare flower, budding and expanding for the enjoyment and use of mankind. * * Excuse the enthusiast—the result of early training in fair Swuizerland.

Toledo, O. J. J. HAKIUS.

HAVE NO EQUAL.

Allcock's Porous Plasters have attained a world-wide reputation solely upon their superlative merits. They have many would-be rivals, but have never been equalled or even approached in curative properties and rapidity and safety of action. Their value has been attested by the highest medical authorities, as well as by unimpeachable testimonials from those who have used them, and they are recommended as the best external remedy for weak back, rheumatism, sciatica, colds, coughs, sore throat, chest and stomach affections, kidney difficulties, weak muscles, strains, stitches, and aches and pains of every description.

Beware of imitations, and do not be deceived by misrepresentation. Ask for Allcock's, and let no solicitation or explanation induce you to accept a substitute.

PUBLIC, TAKE NOTICE.

In order to further promote rapid transit, and to meet the exigencies growing out of the operation of our cars by electric power, we respectfully notify our patrons and the general public that on and after May 2, no person will be transferred from one line of cars to another, except at our respective Transfer Stations.

Transfer checks must be procured at time fare is paid. Checks must be punched by the Transfer Agent at the station before they will be received for passage.

Transfers will be made only for the next succeeding car after the check is punched by the Agent. Passengers leaving the station will forfeit their transfers.

THE REASON WHY.

Why don't I never git married?
Wal, thar's reasons an' reasons, an' then
I never did think much o' marriage—
Let alone my opinion o' men.
They're a pore sort o' critter—the bilin'!
Thar's a few I allow's fit ter live;
But fer makin' the run, I jest' wonder
That their Maker Himself kin forgive.

An' marriage is mostly jes' mis'ry
An' trouble an' struggle an' strife.
Read the papers if you'd git a notion
What it is to be hitched up for life!
Land o' Goshen, I'm glad I ain't in it!
Thar ain't no man I ever obeyed;
An' when I hear tell o' divorces,
I'm proud to be called an "old maid."

I allus fought shy o' the men-folks;
An' to stick down to sober, straight fact,
I must own that they none on 'em never—
Ez far ez I've noticed—was cracked
Upon me. So yo' see 'mong my reasons
Fer not gittin' married, ye've tasked
Me ter tell ye, the best of 'em may be,
My dear, that I never wuz asked!

The Jewish scholar, M. Halvey, has compiled from the cuneifrom tablets discovered at El Amura an account of the Egyptian Governor of Jerusalem under Amenophis IV, 1,500 years before the Christian era. At that time Palestine was in a very disturbed state overrun by the Babylonian hordes and misgoverned by the local satraps. At this early period Jerusalem was a populous city, and contained a temple consecrated to the god Adar. The bureau of royal archives was under the direction of a woman.

The celebration of marriage, partly in churches and partly outside them, was first ordered by Pope Innocent III. in 1199. All the ancient missals direct that toward the conclusion of the service the parties shall enter the church as far as the step of the altar. The greater portion of the ceremony was thus performed in the south porch, still often called in country districts the "wedding door." It was only in the reign of Edward VI that the whole of the ceremony was allowed to be performed in the middle of the church.

A rapid writer can write thirty words in one minute. To do this he must draw his pen through the space of a rod, 16 1-2 feet. In forty minutes his pen travels a furlong and in 5 1-2 hours a full mile. He makes on an average sixteen curves or turns of the pen for each word written. Writing at the rate of thirty words a minute, he must make eight curves to each second; in an hour, 28,800; in five hours, 144,000, and in 300 days, working only five hours each day, he makes not less than 43,200,000 curves and turns of the pen.

THE MICROSCOPE IN CRIME

In conversation a day or two ago with the crown prosecutor I was shown a curious account of persons who had been found guilty of murder by circumstantial evidence, and one of the greatest aids in the detection of murder crimes is furnished by the microscope in the hands of scientific men. In distinguishing human blood on a knife or razor from rust or from that of another animal, in discovering a particle of poisonous matter invisible to the naked eye, and in various other ways the microscope has rendered invaluable assistance to justice. It has been the means of acquitting many an innocent man whom the chain of circumstantial evidence was drawing toward the gallows, and of delivering many a murderer into the hands of the executioner.

In 1855 a murder of an unusually brutal character was committed in Cumberland. The murdered man, the paymaster of a colliery, had been waylaid in a lonely spot, his throat cut from ear to ear, and his body flung under a hedge. Circumstantial evidence of a very incriminating nature was brought against the prisoner. He had been seen near the spot of the murder about the time the deed was done, and had attempted to disguise himself by cutting off his whiskers; but jurors are very reluctant to convict on circumstantial evidence alone, and the circumstances in this case, though very incriminating, were not thought sufficiently conclusive. The aid of the defective microscope was invoked. A learned microscopist on examining the prisoner's trousers found several spots of human blood, the largest "being not so large as a swan shot." Around these spots were traces of soap, evident signs of the spots having been attempted to be washed out, while over one or two ink had been spread. The ivory handle of a razor found in the prisoner's possession was smeared with human blood.

A very severe cross-examination left the witness' evidence unshaken. He showed that the corpuscles or globules of human blood can be easily distinguished by an expert from those of any other animal, those found in the human blood being each about 1-3200 of an inch in diameter, those of a sheep being about 1-7000 of an inch; of a dog, 1-3542, etc. A verdict of guilty was found and the man was executed.

Another proof of the wonderful detective powers of the microscope was given at the Chelmsford spring assizes. This was also a case of murder, the victim being an old woman living alone and having a considerable amount of money in her bed chamber. The back of her head was beaten in, no doubt by means of a large hammer, and the head nearly severed from the body. The footsteps around the house coincided with the imprints of the prisoner's boots; the hammer found beside the murdered woman's bed was declared by a neighbor to have been seen in his possession; a little girl had seen him come from the house on the morning of the murder, and—most conclusive proof of all—in a brook a mile or more from the old woman's house was found a pocket handkerchief, and tightly rolled in it a razor covered with blood, which it was proved belonged to the prisoner.

The defense argued: Assuming the razor and handkerchief belonged to the prisoner, and that the blood upon them was human, they may have had nothing to do with this murder, having been found a considerable distance from the murdered woman's house. The microscope answered the question in the most conclusive manner. Upon the blade of the razor, beside the blood marks, were found a few fibres of flax and cotton. On inspecting the murdered body it was found that the razor had partially severed one of the strings of the woman's nightcap, which string was composed of a mixture of cotton and flax.

Another remarkable illustration may be given of the important part played by the microscope in securing the conviction of a murderess. Not many years ago a female child about 9 years of age, was found murdered by a deep gash in the throat in a small plantation near Norwich. Suspicion fell upon the mother, who had been seen by several persons leading the child toward the place where the crime had been committed.

Upon the woman being searched a long and sharp knife was found, which, on close examination, revealed a bit of fur or hair on the handle. When asked to explain how the fur came there the prisoner brazenly replied: "Yes, I dare say there is, and very likely some stains of blood, for as I came home I found a rabbit fast in a snare, and cut his throat with the knife."

The truth-telling microscope cast a different light on the subject. The microscopist, on separating the handle from the blade, found between the two a quantity of human blood, and asserted that the fur was that of a squirrel. The strange fact was revealed that around the child's neck, when the murder was being done, was a tippet over which the murderer's knife must have passed, and which was made of squirrel's fur.

The innocent, however, have also reason to bless the microscope. A few years ago a man was on the point of being sentenced to death, the principal evidence against him being that he was seen near the scene of the murder, and had in his possession a knife "covered with blood." The microscope discovered the so-called blood to be simply lime juice.

Instances of the condemned who have survived the hangman's rope are by no means rare. Not many years ago a man was publicly hanged in England three separate times, and, either through defects in the scaffold machinery or the hangman's bungling, escaped death after all. People pretend to see in this a visible interposition of Providence to save the man's life. And, for all that is know to the contrary, did so interfere, for a woman has since confessed on her death-bed to having committed the crime, and the unfortunate man has consequently been released from jail and presented by the British government with $25,000 and a farm in South Africa, the only condition of his release being that he changed his name and never disclosed his identity.—Chicago Herald.

ACUTE ATTACKS TO THROAT AND LUNGS

Are more promptly cured by Dr. Hoxsie's Certain Croup Cure than by any remedy. Especially adapted to delicate and young children. 50 cents.

Nearly all the royal personages of Europe are cousins, and not very far removed, as it has been laid down by a German genealogist that every crowned head of Europe, bar Turkey, is descended from one of two sisters, who lived about one hundred and fifty years ago.

Prevalence of Kidney Disease.

The large demand, in this and foreign lands, for BUCHU-PAIBA is the best evidence of its reliability as a remedy in Kidney and Genito-Urinary diseases, affections of the Bladder, &c. The increase in Kidney Complaints in this country in recent years has been arrested to a great extent through the merits of this new remedy BUCHU-PAIBA, which without doubt is the best known treatment for irritation, inflammation and catarrh of the Bladder, and the various diseased Genito-Urinary discharges. It is put up in convenient bottles that sell for $1.00 at Druggists or Chemists, or may be had of the manufacturer, express prepaid, by forwarding $1.00 to E. S. Wells, Jersey City, N. J.

Cockroaches, Ants.

Beetles, water bugs. The most effective and permanent remedy is—for two or three nights to sprinkle ROUGH ON RATS dry powder unmixed, on, in, about and down the sink and drain pipe; scatter it well but thinly all over the sink. First thing in the morning wash it all away down the drain pipe, repeat two or three nights, when all the insects from garret to cellar will disappear. The secret of this is in the fact that wherever the bugs or insects may be during the day, they must go to the sinks for water during the night. They can't stand ROUGH ON RATS in their water. This is the quickest, most effective and satisfactory remedy. ROUGH ON RATS being a poison, it should be used in this way only at night and washed away early in the morning. Another way is to mix a tablespoonful of ROUGH ON RATS with a half pound of brown sugar. Sprinkle it on rear of cupboard shelves or on plates, or on sheets of paper placed high out of reach of children.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

Monroe Street Paving.

Sealed proposals will be received by the undersigned, up to 12 o'clock at noon of Monday,

THE 9TH DAY OF MAY, 1892,

for improving Monroe street from Bancroft street to the westerly gutter line of Detroit avenue, by paving the central thirty-six feet thereof, and from the westerly gutter line of Detroit avenue to westerly city line the central forty feet thereof with Trinidad asphalt laid on a foundation of hydraulic cement concrete, together with the necessary grading, curbing, drainage, etc.

The contractor or contractors who shall do the work herein provided for shall be paid for in an assessment upon the lots and lands benefited thereby, one-half in ten days after the confirmation of the assessment and the remainder in one year thereafter, and the same manner with the Toledo Consolidated Street Ry. Co., except the part in the street intersection, which will be paid in cash by the city of Toledo, ninety days after the completion and acceptance of the work.

All bids must be written with ink and the price of each item shall be written out in full as well as in figures. Each bid must contain the full name of every person interested in the same. All parties filing bids for the matters specified in this notice, must deposit with the city clerk on each bid the sum of four hundred dollars. All deposits to be in cash or certified check on a bank doing a regular banking business in the city of Toledo, and accompanied by an agreement signed by the bidder and two disinterested persons, guaranteeing that, if the bid is accepted, a contract will be entered into—otherwise the amount deposited to be forfeited to the city; and in case a contract is entered into, said deposit to remain until the first estimate of work done, (or double the amount of deposit,) is reported to the common council.

Bidders will be required to indorse their names on the outside of the envelope containing their proposal, and what the bid is for, the same to be filed with the city clerk. Bids not filed in accordance with the above requirements will be rejected.

Blank bids and envelopes can be obtained of the undersigned or of the city civil engineer.

Bidders must specify the time within which they will commence and complete the work after the acceptance of their bid.

Plans and specifications can be seen at the office of the city civil engineer.

The council reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

By order of the council,

C. H. DURIAN, City Clerk.

DOINGS IN REAL ESTATE

What the Agents Have on the Program.

Active Work Marks the Week's Close.

Flattering Inquiry and Many Sales Made to Show the Faith of the People in Toledo Land.

This has been an exceedingly lively week in real estate, and the large number of average-sized deals characterized the week's transfers. There were no extraordinary large transactions consummated, at least none were given out.

Dealers report a flattering inquiry and a good healthy demand for property. The transfers which have reached the recorder's office show a general movement, the sales not being confined to any particular locality or district.

Prices are advancing a little every month, slow, but sure and substantial. There are no boomish inclinations, and it is to be hoped that Toledo will be spared this affliction. Property sells for what it is really worth and not what a fever of excitement and speculation inflates it to.

The painters' strike has been settled and building is moving along in a confidential manner once more. Everything is lovely and the goose hangs high and dry.

Have Your Own Home.

To own a home is to assert independence. A man who owns his own home is monarch of all he beholds.

The only way a man of limited means can possess a home is to buy it at the best terms possible, and then hang on with bull-dog tenacity until the debt is paid and the property free from encumbrance.

It is not best to have the terms of payment too easy, because this method is slow to cut down the principal and the interest is piling up more and more every month.

The building and loan association is a splendid avenue through which a home may be obtained. The system has been perfected to such an extent that a man can deposit his nickles and draw 6 per cent. interest on his account.

A man working on a salary, unless it be starvingly small, can always save a little each month or week, such as the case may be. It is a good idea to determine just what the living will cost just how much can be saved, and apportion the income accordingly.

To save this money there is no better bank than a piece of real estate or a home. There are many temptations to spend money, and a surplus amount of cash on hand soon dwindles away if allowed to remain idle. If an obligation be entered into whereby it is necessary to make a payment of the surplus, it will go where it will de good and not be carelessly squandered.

A man that keeps up a home and pays rent buys a good house and lot every eight or ten years and presents it to his landlord. It is not wise, however, to undertake to pay for a home on too small payments, as the interest will soon devour all that is saved by the investment, and it will be cheaper in the long run to pay rent.

Money is Plentiful.

Just at present money is a drug on the market. Banks have plenty on hand, with no demand for it.

This state of affairs is accounted for in various ways, and different constructions are placed on the significance of the situation from a business standpoint.

A gorge of money may bespeak prosperity, but it is often to the contrary. It is very evident that there is very little doing in the way of speculation.

E. R. Hiett, secretary of the People's Building and Loan company, in conversation with a Bee on the subject, said: "There is something not altogether right in money matters, and I am at a loss to determine just exactly what it is. I know that the banks have a superfluous amount of money on hand, and our receipts are something enormous. Whether speculators have seen a ghost is a question. There seems to be a scare of some kind prevailing. Usually this time of year there is a big demand for money for building purposes, and it may be that the recent strike has something to do with the present state of affairs in money matters. I know of two or three men, with capital, who intended to build brick blocks, but when this strike came on they shelved their plans and deposited their money, so this shows how some of the surplus is piled up."

President Knisely, of the Northern National bank, in conversation with a Bee on the same subject, said: "Yes, money is unusually plentiful for this season of the year. Generally about this time grain and seed dealers create a demand for money, by their speculations in futures on May, June and July wheat. This year, however, there doesn't seem to be any prospect of a living margin on futures, and the result is the dealers are not operating as extensively as in the past, and the demand for money is not so great."

Building Permits.

Building permits taken out this week as follows:

Ira A. Richardson & Son, three frame dwellings on Melrose street, cost each $2,000.

R. Palon, two frame dwellings on Detroit avenue, cost $600 and $300.

THE KING'S DAUGHTER.

I saw a dainty maiden,
Small, delicate and fair,
And said unto our mutual friend:
"She cannot have a care.
Her gray eyes look untroubled,
And show her peace within;
Her hands are like the lilies
That neither toil nor spin."

"Ah! friend, you are mistaken,"
My neighbor said to me;
"This is as busy a little soul
As one could wish to see.
These hands, so like the lilies,
That seem but made to cling,
Both sow and reap, although she is
A daughter of the King.

"She is but one of many
All given to noble deeds;
But one in that vast army
That follow where He leads.
Dear little feet, that travel
So many miles a day,
To succor earth's forsaken—
God bless them on their way!"

No wonder this fair maiden
Looks placid, like the rest,
As she glances at the token
Of silver on her breast.
The pledge that she her service
Will to His dear cause bring,
And prove herself most truly
A daughter of the King.

—New York Ledger.

WRAPPED IN A POISONOUS VEIL!

In the mists that we see rising from the shores of sluggish streams, from low lands soaked by freshets or from marshy muddy flats on the outskirts of populous cities, lurk disease and death. Inmeshed in this poisonous veil of mist are isolated business structures, manufacturing villages and humble tenements. For those who either from motives of business interest or dire necessity are daily constrained to breathe this envenomed atmosphere, there is no immunity save in an efficient medicinal safeguard. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters fully fills the need, protecting whole communities from the insidious attacks of malaria, a disease which in its more malignant forms is scarcely less to be dreaded in the individual than typhus. Every type of it is thoroughly eradicated by the Bitters. This peerless medicine also remedies dyspepsia, constipation, liver and kidney trouble, rheumatism and nervousness. 'Tis a restorative, too, of appetite, sleep and flesh.

DO YOU WANT GOLD?

Cripple Creek is not a health resort. It is a wealth resort. Quite a difference! Location, near Pike's Peak, in Colorado. Gold—bright, yellow gold, is found as grass roots and in the rock formation.

Reliable experts claim this is to-day the richest camp in Colorado. Assays average $100 per ton, and have run as high as $5,000. One hundred people a day are now rushing to Fremont, chief town of the district.

The chance of a life-time is worth looking after!

You can get there quickly and comfortably by taking Santa Fe Route. Only line with no change of cars from Chicago, Kansas City and other principal cities to Florissant, nearest railroad station, with daily stages to Fremont.

We've Got the Gript!

On the pants trade of this city, and a firm one, too. It's style, quality, fit and price what we harp upon, and the Toledo people appreciate this pleasant tune. The suits we make to order at $15, $18, $20 and $25 our customers say that other tailors ask almost again as much for same goods. The proof of the pudding is the eating of it, so come and see for yourself.

NOTHING LIKE IT

SWIFT'S SPECIFIC is a distinctive remedy, and is totally unlike any of the other blood medicines which are sold. It cures diseases of the blood and skin by removing the poison germs which cause them, and at the same time supplies good blood and tissue for the wasted parts. Don't be imposed on by substitutes, which are said to be just as good, for it is not true. No medicine has performed as many wonderful cures, or has relieved so much suffering.

"My blood was badly poisoned last year, which got my whole system out of order—diseased, and a constant source of suffering, no appetite, and no enjoyment of life. I bought two bottles of Swift's Specific and took it, and it brought me right out. No better remedy was ever used for blood diseases than Swift's Specific." JOHN GAVIN, Dayton, Ohio.

PRICES CLOSED LOWER

Selling at Chicago Was the Cause.

The Outward Movement and Visible Supply.

A Fairly Active Market in Toledo—Prices and Values all Over the Commercial World.

The receipts of wheat to-day at Minneapolis and Duluth are 345,272 bu and at five other western points 86,930 bu. On the same Monday in 1891 the receipts were 102,592 bu. The export clearances Saturday at four Atlantic ports were wheat 687,548 bu and flour to an aggregates of 780,000 bu. Export of corn 501,148 bu, and of oats 21,769 bu.

English markets open dull and lower for wheat and steady for corn.

The visible supply of wheat decreased in the week 1,208,000 bu, corn 1,285,000 bu, oats increased 510,000 bu. In the corresponding week in 1891 wheat decreased 1,421,000 bu, corn increased 463,000 bu, oats increased 245,000 bu.

New York visible supply: Wheat, 37,944,000 bu; corn, 6,057,000 bu; oats, 3,624,000 bu.

The Markets To-day.

American markets for wheat opened this morning at about Saturday's closing prices and continued about steady and at times quite firm with a little upward movement, but a selling pressure at Chicago started the markets downward without any prominent or visible reason. Prices closed there 1c to 1 1-8c lower, while in New York the decline is 1c on May and 1-2c on July.

The outward movement is large, and the visible showed all the decrease that was expected.

Foreign markets closed weaker.

In New York May wheat closed 1 and July 1-2c lower. May corn 1-2c and July 1-8c better. May oats 1-4c lower.

In Chicago May wheat closed 1 1-8c, and July 1c lower. May and July corn 1-4c better. May oats 1-8c lower.

In Toledo the wheat market has been fairly active here to-day for May, July and August, but it has been weak, and May especially so. Prices were nearly steady for a while, after opening a little lower, in the last hour broke away and closed 1 1-8c lower for May, 3-8c for July and 1-2c for August. May opened at 90 1-2 and closed at 89 7-8; July sold at 85 and closed at 84 5-8; August sold at 83 7-8 and closed at 83 1-2.

Cash wheat was in light request; No. 2 soft sold at 90 1-2 to 90 1-4 and closed lower to sell; No. 3 soft at 88 1-2 to 88; No. 1 northern at 88.

Corn, No. 2 cash and May, 40 3-4; No. 3, 40 1-2; No. 4, 39.

The Shortage of Rye Abroad.

A Chicago man says that when the price of rye advanced so greatly, in their market, last fall, it disclosed unexpected stocks of it in France, Spain, Portugal, Italy, Turkey, Bulgaria, Roumania and Hungary. The result was an oversupply in Germany, Holland and Bulgaria, where the crop was deficient. It is simply the old story, that a high price develops a supply.

The receipts of wheat continue to present a less aggregate, except in the northwest, than on the same days in 1891, the year of 400,000,000 bu crop, and Toledo commences the month of May with 225,198 bu of all kinds of wheat against 451,340 bu at same date in 1891.

Liverpool stocks of wheat are same as on April 1. Flour has increased 30,000 bu, corn has increased 80,000 bu. Compared with May 1, 1891 wheat is increased 1,280,000 bu, flour 180,000 bbls, corn decreased 240,000 bu.

Northwest Wheat Seeding.

We rely upon the sublime faith of the Market Record that in wheat seeding the northwest will "get there." It says: "Seeding in North Dakota a year ago averaged two weeks earlier than now; a part of north Minnesota the same—central and southern Minnesota and South Dakota three to five days earlier last year—twenty per cent. more rain this year than last."

But then, Mr. Record, there is Iowa and Nebraska and Wisconsin.

New York Close.

New York, May 2.—Flour dull and weak; city mill extra $4.75@4.85 for West Indies; Minnesota extra, $2.65@5.00; fine $2.00@2.75; superfine, $2.25@3.00.

Freights quiet; grain to Liverpool ,steam, 2 1-2d.

Money 2 per cent. Exchange steady; posted rates 488@489 1-2; actual rates 487@487 1-4 for 60 days and 488 1-4@488 1-2 for demand.

Governments steady; currency, 6s, 109 bid; 4s coupon, 115 3-4 bid; extended 2s, registered, 100 bid.

Stocks were exceedingly dull this morning. The sales amounted to only 93,000 shares. Prices were irregular and for most of the list the changes at noon as compared with Saturday's prices were slight. At this writing the market is stagnant.

PIRATES AT WORK.

They Board a Ship in the Mediterranean and Make a Haul.

Gibraltar, May 2.—While a Spanish sailing vessel was bound for Alhucemas, a small island fortress and prison in the Mediterranean belonging to Spain, she was becalmed off the coast of Morocco and drifted shorewards. A number of pirates seeing her condition, boarded and looted her. While the pirates were landing their spoils a breeze sprang up and the captain clapped on all sail and headed her for this port, where he arrived this morning.

Having re-leased our present quarters for a term of years, we will, at a great expense, remodel the building from top to bottom. An entire new front will be put in, the room will be enlarged and refinished, our shop moved upstairs, and many important and necessary changes made. In consequence we must get our goods out of the way. Many pieces would be ruined by the dust and dirt. Everything will be sacrificed; many valuable pieces at less than cost. Our line is full and complete and must attract you. Terms of sale strictly cash. No goods engraved.

THEIR WORDS AGREE.

A Citizen of Minneapolis and an Albany Man Both Had the Same Experience.

No matter what part of the country we may select we are certain to find rheumatism common and rheumatism sufferers numerous. Here is a common sense remedy that is not only said to cure rheumatism, but thus far has actually done it in every case where it has been tried.

Read what A. M. Higgins, one of the best known citizens of Minneapolis, whose offices are in Sykes block, says:

"For more than three years I have been suffering from a severe attack of acute articular rheumatism. Hundreds of dollars have gone in vain for physicians' fees.

The winter of 1890-91, I spent in California, trying to find relief from my agony. Last December I was induced to try Paine's celery compound, and the result is I have been able to remain in Minneapolis this winter. Paine's celery compound is the only thing that afforded me any relief."

This experience is not remarkable. Read Harman Henderer, of 243 Third street, Albany, N. Y., says:

"During the six years between 1884 and 1890 I was a constant sufferer from acute rheumatism, for many days at a time being unable to leave my bed, and at all times suffering intense pain.

"I had tried every remedy suggested without obtaining relief, and had about given up hope of recovery, when, a little over a year ago, at the earnest solicitation of a friend, I began taking Paine's celery compound. I confess that I had little faith in any remedy; but I am happy to state that from the time I began taking the compound I obtained relief, and for the past nine months I have not lost a day from my business, and now consider myself permanently cured."

The best proof of its value is the good it has done. Though known for a comparatively short time, there probably is not a city or town in this state where Paine's celery compound has not effected a cure.

It is cause for congratulation that at last there is a positive and reliable way to cure rheumatism and relieve suffering.

METHODISTS IN SESSION

The General Conference at Omaha, Nebraska.

Lay Delegates Declare for Separate Seats.

Every Evidence that the Meeting in the West is Going to be of Much Interest and Importance.

Omaha, May 2.—The Methodist general conference is in session here. The meeting of lay delegates held at the First Methodist church proved to be startling. Very few laymen knew when they went to church what the object of the meeting was, but they had not been there more than 20 minutes until a pretty good sized conference had broken loose right there.

About 100 of the lay delegates were present, and after electing Mr. Field, postmaster at Philadelphia, as chairman, and Mr. Young, of North Dakota, as secretary, the meeting proceeded to the discussion of some very interesting questions.

The chairman requested Dr. John E. Jones, of the laymen's association of Philadelphia, who had been discussing for some time the possibility of securing more power in the general conference than that which they usually exercised to speak. The laymen, he said, were as a rule unfamiliar with the workings of general conferences and were not personally acquainted with the bishops as the ministerial delegates were, and for this reason the laymen, as a rule, failed to exercise that influence in the conference deliberations that their interests really demanded.

It was also the belief of the Philadelphia laymen that the time had come for them to ask equal representation with the ministers in the general conferences. The idea of there being 150 laymen to 350 ministerial delegates in the general conference had begun to appear ridiculous to the minds of a good many laymen. So the meeting of the laymen had been called before the conference met in ordr that the laymen might present a request for the privilege of being seated in a body separate from the ministers in the conference and also to express a desire for equal representation in the next general conference.

Half a dozen delegates were on their feet in an instant trying to get the eye of the chairman to speak upon the question, and Mr. Shinkle, of Kentucky, succeeded in gaining the floor. He is an experienced conference delegate, having attended five general conferences prior to this, and what he says naturally carries a good deal of weight. He was very much opposed to the idea of separate seats. He thought it would look like antagonism and dissension to have the ministerial and lay delegates separated on the conference floor. Mr. Shinkle's remarks seemed to carry conviction to the minds of the delegates, for he was applauded, but there was something to follow that turned the tide.

Mr. Thomas F. Murray, of Pennsylvania, secured the floor, and before he relinquished it he had evidently changed the face of things a good deal. Mr. Murray spoke deliberately and logically. He held that there was no intention on the part of the laymen to create antagonism between the two orders of delegates, but the lay delegates certainly came to the conference for a purpose, and they should see to it that they accomplish something for the good of the church. Under the old regime, Mr. Murray held, where the ministers and lay delegates were all mingled together on the conference floor, it was almost impossible for the average lay delegate to secure recognition from the chair when an important discussion arose in the conference, on account of the fact that the bishops, who preside, were acquainted with the ministerial delegates and were unacquainted with the laymen, it usually happened that when several men were trying to get the eye of the presiding officer, the laymen got worsted.

After several speeches pro and con, the resolution which had been offered soon after the discussion arose by Mr. Shaw, of Iowa, for the purpose of requesting the conference to seat the lay delegates separately, was put and carried by a vote of 74 to 24.

At exactly 9 o'clock this morning Bishop Bowman rapped to order the first business session of the twenty-first quadrennial general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church. The immense auditorium of the Boyd theater hardly sufficed to accommodate the immense throng of delegates and visitors attracted by the meeting.

It is estimated that in addition to the [illegible] regular delegates present there are fully 4,000 visitors in attendance.

At the session this morning the six [illegible]ers of boxes were occupied by the wives and families of the 18 bishops of the church. The session was opened by scriptural reading by Bishop Newman, followed by an earnest prayer by Bishop Foss.

Continuing the religious services Dr. Lonohan, of Baltimore, read another passage from the scriptures and the immense congregation united in an old Methodist hymn. The conference then proceeded to complete its permanent organization.

A strong memorial will be presented to the conference asking it to enact such legislation as will enable pastors to drop members who do not support the church according to their ability, to elect bishops for eight years without privilege of re-election, to remove the limit from the pastorate, to provide for the election of presiding elders with or without the consent of the bishop, and to give the cabinet with the bishop the power of making appointments, a majority of the presiding elders being sufficient to determine an appointment.

S. D. Monroe, of Pennsylvania, and Manley S. Hurd, of Wyoming, were the candidates for secretary. The former was elected by nearly two-thirds majority. He chose as his assistants Manley H. Hurd and Charles Hudson, of Indiana.

After the election of a secretary the permanent seating of delegates was in order and a long discussion followed.

HEALTHY. HAPPY. WHY?

Is he a bright child? Does he look healthy and happy? He is bright, and he is both healthy and happy. He is the little son of Mrs. Henry T. Bowers, wife of the well-known contractor and builder, who resides in Dorchester avenue, South Boston. Mrs. Bowers has had quite an experience with her children, which experience we give in her own words, as follows:

"I have a little boy two and one-half years of age, the perfect picture of rugged health, and also a little girl of four. I attribute their good health and good temper to the use of Dr. Hand's Remedies.

I have used, as occasion required, the entire line, and have had very marked results from the Colic Cure, Cough and Croup Medicine, and the Pleasant Physic. I have never had any but good result from the use of any of them."

No mother would make a statement like the above unless she knew wholly whered she affirmed.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

Headquarters Democratic State Central Committee. Columbus, O., April 27, 1892.

By Order of the Democratic State Central Committee:

The democrats of Ohio are requested to meet in delegate convention in the city of Columbus on Tuesday and Wednesday, June 14th and 15th, 1892, to place in nomination candidates for the following offices, viz: One secretary of state, two judges of supreme court, one clerk of supreme court, one member of board of public works, and two presidential electors to represent the state at large on the national democratic ticket. The convention will also choose four delegates and four alternate delegates to represent the state at large at the national democratic convention to be held at Chicago, Ill., on June 21 and 22, 1892.

The basis of representation to the state convention is one delegate for each 500 or a fraction of over 250 votes cast for Hon. James E. Campbell for governor in 1889.

All delegates to the state convention shall be individually selected in the several counties of the state before coming to said convention, as mass delegates will not be recognized.

Each county is entitled to the following representation:

Allen	10	Ottawa	6
Crawford	10	Paulding	6
Defiance	6	Putnam	8
Fulton	4	Sandusky	7
Hancock	9	Seneca	10
Henry	6	Van Wert	7
Huron	6	Williams	6
Lucas	15	Wood	8
Mercer	8	Wyandot	6

The state committee adopted the following resolutions, which shall be followed in the calling of congressional district conventions:

Resolved, That the congressional committeeman, and where there is no congressional committee, then the democratic county committee, selected from each county of the congressional district, as existing in the Fifty-second congress, be, and are hereby advised to act as the temporary congressional committee from said county, in the new districts, in which such county may be included under the act of legislature, passed in 1892.

Resolved, That the congressional committeeman from the most populous county in said district shall be advised to act as chairman of said congressional committee, with power to call a meeting of said committee for the purpose of selecting the time and place of holding its congressional convention and fixing the

APPORTIONMENT OF DELEGATES

Thereto and such other business as such convention may determine upon.

J. A. NORTON, Chairman,
Democratic State Central Committee.
C. F. LANTIS, Secretary.
